INCOME TAX DEADLINE NEARS

IRS Braces for the Deluge

WITH THE APRIL 15 income tax filing deadline 2 days away, Internal Revenue Service personnel are pracing for a flood of last-minute returns.

"On April 16, when our mail comes, it will come in semi-trucks," said Francis Busalacchi, public information officer for the San Francisco district.

"The mail will have to be stored in the hallways for lack of room," he added. "We will still be opening it on the 26th."

In San Mateo County, the IRS has special personnel on duty to answer taxpayer questions about their returns. The number, where clerks are on duty from 8:15 to 5 p.m. weekdays, is 341-6575. In San Francisco, a call to 556-1040 will bring help.

While many people struggle through their own returns, others are turning to professionals for assistance.

ALFRED BELOTZ, a Daly City accountant for 16 years, said his business has been steadily increasing, and not simply because of population growth.

"There's been an increase in business from the individual who used to prepare his own return," Belotz said. "The old, familiar form is no longer familiar to him."

Part of the increase, Belotz said, is due to the "constantly changing tax laws and rates, and the notoriety of stories about people being audited more frequently.

While more and more are turning to licensed accountants for tax help, many are seeking the services of professional tax consultants, such as the nationally-franchised H. and R. Block Company.

MRS. JAMES SAPP, who with her husband operates Block offices in South San Francisco and Pacifica, confirms the fact that increasing numbers of taxpayers are getting professional help.

"They feel that it's just not worth the bother," she said, to do it themselves. "They want to be sure the return is correct."

Mrs. Sapp said an unusually large number of people seem to be filing at the last moment this year, although there seems to be no clear explanation for it. Her offices, she said, will be busy for several weeks to come.

"We do quite a few returns after the deadline," she added. "We'll be busy until the end of May."

Although his office stopped taking new tax returns April 1, Belotz said, taxes have become a year-around thing.

The heaviest period is still between January and April 15.

"The people who are expecting refunds hit us in January, said Belotz. "The ones who are consistently paying taxes put it off."

ACCORDING TO the IRS, about half of the returns are received by March 15, and the other half arrive between then and the deadline. Most of the late returns come at the last moment.

A penalty of five per cent per month, up to a maximum of 25 per cent, is charged for late returns.

Busalacchi said that even those who cannot afford to pay immediately should file by the deadline if possible. The IRS will mail a bill for the amount due, he said, which then becomes payable within ten days.

In hardship cases or emer-

It's Worry Time!

ALFRED BELOTZ, Westlake accountant, and secretary Dolores Vick do the worrying for clients as income tax deadline approaches. Belotz says he knows the deadline is at hand when his very first customer—a retired nurse — brings her return in for preparation at the last moment, as she has for 16 years. She arrived last week—the deadline is day after tomorrow.

JUHS Mulls Serramonte School Plan

Site Decision Is Not Reached

The fate of proposed Serramonte High School hung in perilous balance for over an hour at Monday night's Jefferson Union High School District meeting while trustees debated the necessity of its existence.

Following the reading of a lengthy pro and con analysis by Supt. Edward Morgan, "a thumbnail sketch of voluminous information," on site selection Fontana asked for a decision.

"We've got to get this thing on the road," he stated. "If we keep on digesting facts it is going to cost us not $6 million but $7 million. The administration has had previous orders from the board to proceed with Serramonte. Further study is just going to hamper the building of this school and we are already behind our schedule."

Morgan agreed that "we have

D.C.'s BART Station Will Be Elevated

Officials Meet in S.F.

By DON MILLER

Daly City's end-of-the-line Bay Area Rapid Transit District station would be an elevated structure rather than a subway, according to preliminary plans outlined to city officials by BART representatives last Thursday in San Francisco.

In addition, the station, under the proposal, would not serve as a storage yard for trains. Under previous proposals, BART had planned to store trains during non-commute hours and periods of low patronage on the line.

The changes in BART's proposals for the Daly City station were attributed by officials to cost factors.

The district has been attempting to seek ways of cutting costs since consulting engineers have predicted the district won't have enough money from its bond issue to finish the transit system.

BART will build its Daly City station on a 13-acre site near Knowles and Los Banos Avenues and the Junipero Serra Freeway.

Demolition of more than 100 homes in the area has begun.

Daly City Planner Edward Lawson said the BART officials emphasized their plans were still only in the preliminary stages.

The plans, he added, show a parking lot for patrons' cars at ground level rather than on top of a structure that was to have been erected over a train storage yard.

$100,000 PROGRAM

D.C. Okays Start Of General Plan Study

A sweeping $100,000 General Plan program was approved by the Daly City Council Monday night.

The program calls for ten months of preparation and another eight months of study on its implementation.

Daly City would get the plan for the bargain price of $27,622 in cash, plus $7,100 worth of city-donated services — a total of $34,722. The remaining two-thirds would be paid by the federal government.

"It is a tremendous program of great benefit," declared Mayor Francis Pacelli. He called for co-operation from "all of the different groups and citizens throughout Daly City" in completing the plan.

Planning consultant Abraam Krushkhov, whose firm would make the study, also asked for help from the community. "We will do everything in a fishbowl," he promised, adding that he plans complete co-ordination with city officials in the program.

Planning Director Edward Lawson, whose department would be instrumental in the study, said it will take six to seven months to get things under way.

In the meantime, he said, he hopes groups such as homeowner associations will begin to think about contributions to the General Plan study.

Khrushkhov, whose Berkeley-based firm is doing or has recently done planning studies in half a dozen or so Bay Area cities, said the study will in-

LONG-TIME AIDE

John Mongan, Jeff Principal, Dies

John Mongan, principal of Jefferson High School for the last 11 years and the dean of principals in the Jefferson Union High School District, died yesterday morning in Mt. Zion Hospital.

He was rushed to the hospital at 1 a.m. from his home in San Francisco and died at 7:30.

Last year, he was on sick leave from April to September because of a heart ailment.

His death came as a shock to officials, administrators and students of the district. Elio Fontana, chairman of the school district's board of trustees, summed up the reaction when he declared:

"There is a man who has given his life for the education of children. He will be sorely missed."

Classes at Jefferson were suspended for the remainder of the day yesterday after word of Mongan's death was received.

Mongan joined the district in 1938 as a social studies teacher at Jefferson. He later became dean of boys before stepping into the principal's role.

In 1956, he pioneered a new district program by so assigning teachers that every teacher had a class preparation period each day.

As a principal, he continually pressed for better salaries for teachers.

He also was instrumental during the early years of his administration at Jefferson in re-

TERRA NOVA RING

4 Pacifica Youths Seized In Marijuana Investigation

Four ringleaders were arrested on charges of possession and selling marijuana at Pacifica's Terra Nova High School last Friday and yesterday, it was disclosed today by Pacifica Police Chief Neil Tremaine. He said as many as 300 youngsters may have been using marijuana.

The arrests of 19-year-old Terrance L. Greenfield, of 820 Arguello Boulevard, a former Terra Nova student who recently graduated from barbers' college; two 17-year-old youths, and a 15-year-old boy, taken into custody at his home Friday night, were the results of an intensive investigation over the past three weeks by the district attorney's office and Pacifica police.

Inspector Al Tebaldi said it is expected that between 200 and 300 students probably will be interviewed, now that the arrests of the suspected "suppliers" has been made.

Other authorities said they expect the investigation may become county-wide.

Pacifica police reported that an investigation will be made to determine if narcotics use was involved in a traffic crash Monday night which killed a 15-year-old Terra Nova student.

Instantly killed when the car in which he was a passenger careened broadside into a power pole after skidding out of control from some distance was Russell L. Nantz, 15, of 37 Alviso Court.

The driver of the vehicle, Michael L. Mattsen III, 15, a Terra Nova student of 1204 Seville Drive, was arrested for not having a license and for violation of parole. He will be charged with manslaughter. Officer Daniel McGee said. The youth, according to officers, has a record, and was booked into the Hillcrest juvenile home only last April 3.

A third boy in the car was Raymond L. Ball, 15, of 1484 Flores Drive, Pacifica. Mattsen and Ball were treated at Mary's Help Hospital, where Nantz was pronounced dead on arrival.

A witness, Jim Waltz of 343 Reichling Drive, Pacifica, said he was driving west on Linda Mar Boulevard near White Field when the youths' auto

Expressway Desired By Brisbane

The Brisbane City Council last night authorized a request to the County Board of Supervisors that the county grant the city the right to specify at a later date the location of an access ramp to the Guadalupe Expressway.

The road will connect Bayshore Boulevard with the extension of Market Street in Daly City to provide an east-west route in the north county.

In Brisbane, the expressway will run through a 53-acre planned community development proposed by Heritage Homes Construction Company.

Brisbane councilmen last night heard a report from City Engineer Carl Kirker on a meeting among city and county officials over a possible access route to the expressway from the development.

Brisbane, Kirker said, has yet to approve a tentative map for the development and thus does not know where an access ramp should be located.

Recruiting Drive On In San Bruno

The San Bruno Park School District has an overabundance of applicants for its teaching positions, members of the board of trustees were told last night.

For each anticipated vacancy, said Director of Personnel William Jennings, the district has already interviewed at least ten candidates.

8 Entered In Miss Daly City Contest

With the preliminary judging still more than two weeks away, eight Daly City girls have already signed up for the annual Miss Daly City contest.

The winner of the contest, to be named at a final judging on May 27, will represent the North County city in the Fiesta Dream Girl competition at the San Mateo County Fair in August.

Girls who have regsitered for the contest in Daly City include: Terry Bertsch, Linn Coffey, Judy Culpepper, Pat DeBernardi, Judy Giles, Shirley Herrera, Madelaine Martinelli and Joyce Solari.

Final day for application is April 23.

Preliminary judging will be held in the Westmoor High School Little Theater on April 29.

between 850 to 900 cars in the lot. The number, Lawson said, was slightly less than the number proposed before.

The planner said the city is concerned about traffic flow, esthetics and the affects on neighboring property.

"Our primary concern is the relation of the station to possible future development of the city," Lawson said.

He added that the city was not prepared to evaluate the BART proposals until the proposals leave the preliminary planning stage and are formally presented to the city.

Before a transit station is built in Daly City, the district and the city must sign an agreement, covering aspects of construction that will affect traffic flow in the area.

For example, before the station and parking lot can be built a number of Daly City streets in the area will have to be closed off.

Under BART's present plans, the Daly City line would run on an elevated structure along the Southern Freeway in San Francisco to the Daly City station, which also would be above ground.

Lawson said district officials "roughly" estimated that construction on the station would begin in mid-1967 and that the station would be completed in June of 1969.

District officials previously indicated the Daly City terminal would be among the first in the system to be opened.

The city and BART have clashed in the past over plans for the station.

A year ago this month, councilmen assailed BART for formally designating the site of its Daly City station while questions of traffic control around the station still remained unanswered.

Councilman Albert Polonsky said then the city's position had been made clear to transit officials but that the district seemed to be ignoring this position.

City officials are particularly concerned about the effect of the station and the flow of cars to the parking lot on the city's new $500,000 Knowles-Los Banos Expressway, opened in 1964 to provide a speedy flow of traffic between Mission Street and Alemany Boulevard.

been investigating the need for Serramonte since 1960."

Both Trustees Edward Solomon and Raymond Milton raised questions about Superintendent Morgan's report. Solomon made a motion that the board hold off on Serramonte and look into building on to Westmoor High School. It was seconded by Milhowever, by the other three trustees.

Solomon contended that over 1,000 people at the boundary meetings had asked that the board look into additions to the Westmoor site. The original site study for Serramonte by a Stanford committee, he felt, lacked certain facts, among them the planned 80 acre shopping center and the large apartment area in the Serramonte school district. "I think the original site study was based on a Doelger type of development rather than what it is," Solmon stated.

"I can almost guarantee that we won't open in September of 1968, anyway," Morgan said. We need a minimum of 18 months for construction."

No one on the board seemed satisfied with the apparent stalemate, and one suggested that some decision be reached following a board inspection meeting of Westmoor High School next week.

Fontana, who showed increasing irritation at the lack of decisiveness, stated that he was against any further review.

"We're getting into the same thing as the Bay Area Rapid Transit, and the cost meanwhile keeps increasing," Trustee James Cooper added in concluding the discussion. "Any new school is a calculated risk."

In other business, the board listened to presentations by employe and teacher representatives for 5 per cent salary increases. Frank Gillis, business representative for the American Federation of State-County Municipal Employees, asked for the increase in all classifications.

ducing class sizes in basic subjects.

So well liked was he by teachers that even though he was an administrator, they elected him president of a district-wide teachers' association.

Mongan was considered an advocate of increased emphasis in the humanities and the fine arts. As an associate put it:

"He wanted students to get more than the so-called middle class education. He was in favor of a curriculum that would fully prepare them for all the responsibilities of adult citizenship and playing a role in society."

In 1964, Mongan prepared an in-depth analysis of district hiring policies as they related to possible de facto segregation.

In February of 1965, he met probably the stiffest challenge to his administrative abilities when fighting among students, with racial overtones, broke out at Jefferson — resulting in the arrest of three youths and the cancellation of after-school activities for a week.

At an emotion-charged public meeting later at the school, Mongan cooly and firmly presided and outlined a comprehensive four-point program he said the school would undertake in an effort to relieve tension and racial unrest.

Later, two experts in the field of human relations were called into a series of informal meetings and the situation at Jefferson ultimately returned to normal.

Mongan was a graduate of the University of California.

In addition to his wife, Judith of San Francisco, his survivors include a brother, Martin Mongan, clerk of the County of San Francisco.

approximately 25 vacancies this fall, and has so far interviewed around 250 applicants. Those who have been interviewed were culled from some 600 who have submitted applications to the district.

And even though he is swamped with teachers who would like to teach in San Bruno Park schools, Jennings said, he plans to continue a recruiting drive which will take him to 18 major California colleges.

The reason, he said, is that fewer new teachers are applying this year, due in part to recently altered educational requirements set by the legislature.

Another factor, he added, is massive recruiting raids by some desperate Southern California districts in the Bay Area. Jennings said he will visit several campuses in the south, to try to induce promising graduates to come north.

The recruiting and interviewing process began last December, the personnel director said. It will continue at least until the end of this month, when sheer numbers may force a halt to acceptance of further applications.

The major advantage to the district, he said, is the ability to select the cream of the hundreds of applicants.

Last year, Jennings said, applications flooded the district.

Officer Thomas J. Mellon of San Francisco, California Highway Patrol Captain J. W. Kennedy, Federal Regional Engineer of Bureau of Public Roads S. E. Farin and the elected officials of Daly City.

Others attending the event will be: Highway Commissioner Abraham Kofman, Deputy State Highway Engineer George Langsner, District Engineer of the Division of Highways Alan S. Hart, District Construction Engineer William Travis and Bridge Engineer R. M. Schroll.

Daly City city department heads and Susann Bernard, Miss Daly City of 1965, will also attend.

A luncheon at the Lake Merced Golf and Country Club will be held after the ceremony.

The opening of the freeway will occur about two weeks before the date previously anticipated.

The Daly City portion of the freeway runs for about 2.7 miles in a partly depressed cut through the center of the city.

Estimated cost of the project is $10 million.

When completed, the freeway, designated as Highway 280, will extend from San Francisco to San Jose, a distance of more than 50 miles.

passed him at 40 to 60 miles per hour. The driver lost control of the vehicle, which slid sideways into the street and wrapped itself around the pole.

Chief Tremaine reported that the apparent extent of marijuana use at the school has caused concern among authorities. He said estimates vary as to the number of users, although they surely will exceed a hundred.

Tebaldi described the investigation as "highly undercover" so students would not be tipped off. He said authorities have found a large influx of marijuana into the county, but declined to state whether officers knew its source. He said police had planned to talk to the three boys involved in the fatal accident.

Tebaldi said while some problems have broken out at teenage dances, none have been of a serious nature. He said some of the youths may have been using the "weed," although an officer probably would investigate on the basis of a minor drinking if a youth had alcohol on his breath.

gencies, he added, arrangements for payment without penalties can be arranged.

THE MOST important thing in filling out a return, Busalacchi said, is accuracy.

"The closer to April 15, the more likely people are to make a mistake," he declared. "It's best to do the return one day and recheck it the next."

Joseph M. Cullen, district director of the IRS for Northern California, suggested that common errors may be eliminated with the use of a simple checklist.

First, Culien said, check arithmetic. Sign the return, and print or type name and address. Write all figures plainly.

Other points: Use the correct tax table, attach all W-2 forms, total the deductions if itemized on page 2, and list social security numbers correctly.

"You can save your government as well as yourself valuable time and money by carefully checking your 1965 tax return before you mail it," Cullen said.

TO MAKE THE taxpayers' job easier, the government recently hired a private firm which modernized the tax forms, changing type, rearranging some items and eliminating confusing terms such as "adjusted gross income," which even some tax people couldn't understand. In addition, the government supplies most California high schools with "teaching taxes" programs, usually taught in civics, math or bookkeeping classes.

The program has been in operation for several years, according to Busalacchi, and is now paying off with young adults who are quite proficient at preparing their own returns.

"In the Internal Revenue Service, we are underlining the word 'Service,' " he said.

Although the IRS has installed complex computers to handle the job of checking the erturns, Busalacchi said, "The computers allow us to release more people to help taxpayers."

D.C. Okays Start Of General Plan

clude all of Daly City, Colma, and the San Bruno Mountain area.

It will include a look at virtually every aspect of municipal life in Daly City—from a study of a capital improvement program to implement the plan's proposals to "a good hard look" at hillside subdivision areas.

Other areas of study include land use, zoning, transportation, traffic, parking, population, economic and social factors, schools, parks, recreation, and several other fields.

The study will result in at least two alternate plans for the city's growth until 1985, Krushkhov said, with forecasts of factors ranging from school enrollment to commercial growth.

After review of the proposed plans by official and citizens' groups, the consulting firm would analyze suggestions and recommendations, then prepare a composite plan for hearings before the Planning Commission and City Council.

The new plan, noted Councilman Micheal DeBernardi, is necessary because of the "rapid changes" in Daly City, which include both physical and population growth.

The city's old master plan, he said, no longer meets the criteria necessary to qualify for federal planning money, because requirements have also been changing rapidly.

Mayor Pacelli added that the new General Plan will go into much greater detail than the previous master plan.

Death

NORMAN G. STEIN

Norman George Stein, 58, of 741 Mills Avenue, San Bruno, a night biller at Armour & Company, meat vendors, died last week at Kaiser Hospital, South San Francisco, after a short illness.

A native of Detroit, Mich., he came here nine years ago locating then in San Bruno.

Surviving are his wife, Marion of the family home; two sons, Richard Stein of Menlo Park and Lawrence Stein of San Francisco; a daughter, Mrs. Marilyn Ball of Highalnd, Ind.; his mother, Mrs. Catherine Stein of Monroe, Mich., and three grandchildren.

The rosary was recited at 8 p.m. last Thursday at the San Bruno Funeral Home. Services were conducted Friday at 9:30 a.m. at the chapel. Interment will be in Olivet Memorial Park.

EDWARD ULRICH

Edward Ulrich, a long-time resident of Pacifica, died last month of a heart attack.

At his request, arrangements are being made to have his ashes placed aboard a ship bound for the Pacific, for burial at sea.

As part of the final rites, the ashes will be lowered to the accompaniment of three blasts of the ship's whistle.

Ulrich is survived by his wife, Betty, of Pacifica; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christian Ulrich of Lodi, and 12 sisters

His only brother, Rudy, died in an auto accident four years ago.

Large Gains Are Reported For Airport

Impressive gains in passenger, mail and freight traffic at San Francisco International Airport continued through February, James K. Carr, General Manager of Public Utiilities, informed the Public Utilities Commission last week.

The month's air passenger total of 688,113 was 19.2 per cent more than for February last year, he said. For the first eight months of the current fiscal year, passenger volume increased by 17.7 per cent over the corresponding 1964-65 period, and for the first two months of the current calendar year, the gain exceeded 20 per cent.

Carr reminded the Commission that steady increases in travel by military personnel continued to be a major factor in the air passenger growth rate.

Airport General Manager George F. Hansen's report to Carr also showed air shipments of U.S. mail increased by 75.1 per cent over February last year to 11,539,847 pounds, and this marked gain also largely was attributed to a greater volume of mail to and from the armed forces in Southeast Asia and other Far East areas.

Air express shipments dipped by .7 per cent to 1,057,647 pounds, while air freight gained 40.4 per cent over a year ago to 27,727,416 pounds.

Third Youth Is Jailed In Bombings

North County police officials last week arrested another youth in connection with a series of bombings that terrorized two markets in the area last December.

Michael Thomas Coombs, 20, of 1721 Marina Court in San Mateo, a sailor assigned to the USS General Mitchell, was arrested at the Treasure Island Brig where he was being held by Navy officials for being absent without leave during the past week.

Daly City Police Sgt. Matthew Murray and Pacifica Police Inspector Paul Avertt made the arrest.

Two weeks ago, two Pacifica boys were arrested and charged with the bombing. Alex Jasper, 20, and a 15-year-old are both being held in connection with the blast that ripped the Mayfair Market at 2665 Geneva Avenue, Daly City, December 20, and the Central Foods Market at 609 Crespi Drive, Pacifica, on the following day.

Police were still looking for a fourth member of the group.

All three are charged with two counts each of attempted extortion and unlawful use of explosives. Bail has been set for Coombs at $10,000.

According to Daly City Police Dectective Philip Cabruzzo, Coombs was a personal friend of the other two youths.

"We knew that they had done this before," explained Labruzz "This supermarket matter has been going on for three years, off and on. One of their friends broke down and confessed in front of the Grand Jury a week ago, and all we had to do was find them."

Coombs turned himself in to Navy officials on January 10.

Dist. Atty. Keith Sorenson said the arrest of Coombs and Thomas Critchlow, 17, was the result of a considerable amount of additional investigation done after the grand jury indictment of Gaspar. Coombs and Critchlow were not included in the indictment but Sorenson said the three of them were in the two bombings together.

Each is being charged with the same four counts as Gaspar: Two of attempted extortion, two of unlawful use of explosives. Critchlow is being handled in juvenile court.

Gaspar finally bailed out. His court-appointed attorney, Carlos Tinlsey, had asked the court on three occasions to reduce bail and all requests were denied. So last week a $11,000 surety bond (same as cash) was posted and he was reelased. Bail is $10,000 and the extra $1,000 is the standard 10 per cent state assessment required on all bail. Gaspar is to plea to the indictment in superior court 9 a.m., Friday.

HOUSE RANSACKED

Olive O. Orpine of 71 Eaton Avenue, Daly City, reported to police last week that her house had been ransacked.

BROWN RE-ELECTED

Broadmoor Has Quiet Election

While election fever mounted in the rest of the county, the citizens of the unincorporated Broadmoor district in the North County were relaxing last week.

They had their election last Wednesday.

It was the first time in nine years that voters in the area had gone to the polls to elect a member to the three-man Broadmoor Police Commission, which administers the last remaining special police district in the state.

Although one member is elected each year, the County Board of Supervisors appoints the candidate if he runs unopposed—and this has usually been the case.

In last week's contest, incumbent Harry Brown, a 12-year veteran of the commission, won easily over Kevin McDonald, a member of the Broadmoor police reserves for two years and a co-owner with his wife of Mercy Ambulance service.

The final vote was 388-100.

There were two polling places. Voters at the Colma Firehouse chose Brown by a 39 to 27 margin.

At the Broadmoor Police Station, the vote was 349-73.

FORCED ENTRY

Daly City police reported last week that an intruder had forced the front door of the home of Olive O. Orpine, 71 Eaton Avenue. Apparently nothing was taken.

End of Voter Registration Is Tomorrow

With one election just past, voters still face county and state primary elections in June and a general election this fall.

The registration deadline for those June elections is tomorrow.

Tomorrow also marks the final day of an intensive voter registration drive, which has seen volunteers conducting a door-to-door canvass throughout Daly City.

Other volunteers have manned booths at area markets, and will continue to do so through tomorrow.

Voters may register from 5 to 8:30 p.m. tonight or tomorrow at Westlake Foods, in the Westlake Shopping Center Skyline Plaza Market; Safeway Store in St. Francis Heights, and the Mayfair Market on Mission Street.

A volunteer is scheduled to be at the Mayfair Market on Junipero Serra Boulevard from 2-5 and 6-8 both eveinngs.

Residents in all North County cities may register at the offices of city clerks today and tomorrow. Persons who are unable to reach a place of registration may call the city clerks for further information.

S.S.F. Driver Robbed And Manhandled

Louis Corsiglia, 45, of 428 Constitution Way, South San Francisco, the father of seven children, was driving a cargo of an estimated $20,000 in women's clothing in San Francisco last week when five men pulled him over to the side and hijacked the cargo.

Corsiglia was bound and gagged and left lying near the Bayshore Freeway in Brisbane.

He crawled to the freeway where a highway patrolman picked him up. He was taken to Mission Emergency Hospital where he was treated for rope burns and exposure and finally reunited with his wife, Bernadette.

Corsiglia described to police how he was left in the truck and how he inched his way out, only to fall to the ground. He lay under the truck all night, not daring to move toward the nearby traffic in fear of being run over.

Gil Gouveia, operations manager and superintendent of the victim firm, A and B Garment Delivery Co., said he had feared hijacking when the driver vanished. He said four other truck hijackings of merchandise had occurred in the Los Angeles area in recent months.

Pacifica Boy Asks More Linda Mar Play Facilities

A nine-year-old Pacifica youngster told a meeting of the Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation Commission last week that more recreational facilities are needed in the city's Linda Mar area.

Cluade Fiddler of 1625 Higgens Way, a fourth grade student at Linda Mar Elementary School, played a key role in preparation of a petition sent to the city council, asking for the facilities.

He said tennis courts, a skate board rink and a playfield were needed at his school.

The boy was accompanied to the commission meeting by six playmates and three parents. He acted as the spokesman for the group.

Eldred Lokker, head of the city's recration department, said the children's request would be studied. He noted that a tennis court is planned for a third addition to Terra Nova High School, situated in the Lina Mar area.

TIRE, WHEEL TAKEN

Kenneth Bailey of 405 Palmcrest Drive, Daly City, reported to police last week that a spare tire and wheel had been stolen from a car, parked in front of his home.

PLAYBOY BUNNIES are common in cities across the country, but Daly City claims the world's only playground bunny. She's Barbara Howser of the City Recreation Department, shown here at opening ceremonies for children's play area at Westlake Park, surrounded by (from left) Recreation Commissioners Louis Larcombe, Anthony Aiello, Ben Albrecht and Ann Eason; Councilman Bernard Lycett; Mayor Frank Pacelli (with shears); Recreation Director Chuck Vincent; City Engineer Art Reschke, and Councilman Albert Polonsky. Mrs. McDonald to Serve Again

Announcement was made this week of the appointment by Gov. Edmund G. Brown, of Mrs. Edith C. McDonald of San Mateo County to serve another four-year term on the board of directors of No. 1-A District Agricultural Association, the ruling body of the Cow Palace in San Francisco.

The well-known sports enthusiast was the first woman to be named to the board. With her husband Bill she operates one of the very few remaining cattle ranches in San Mateo County, near La Honda.

She is chairman of the Livestock Committee of the Cow Palace Board of Directors and is vitally interested in all phases of the Junior Livestock Exposition and the Grand National Livestock Exposition.

By LE PACINI

IN DOING our "baseball yarn" column last week we mentioned as a source for the Gil McDougald stories one Owen Kashevaroff, and then sort of dropped him into oblivion.

So as not to give anyone the impression that Kashevaroff is deserving of oblivion we've decided, this week, to impress upon the public that Owen is a very important person in these parts.

What he is, besides being an ex-All American soccer player, is commissioner of the North Peninsula League, one of the area's top basketball officials, Athletic Director and Physical Education Department Head at El Camino High School, father of three children, and on Saturdays he washes the car.

Perhaps the most demanding job for the Pacifican his NPL commissionership, which, ironically, is supposedly a part-time position.

Among a myriad of unclassifiable little items, his pecific duties are to make up playing schedules for ll sports, assign officials (an especially tough job beause of competition with the Mid-Peninsula and South eninsula Athletic Leagues well as college contests in he area), check the eligibility of all players, handle rotests and interpret rules and regulations.

OWEN WAS BORN in San Francisco's outer Mission district, where he played sandlot baseball, and later attended Denman Junior High School and Balboa High School.

San Francisco State College is where he gained his All-American soccer ranking as a goalie. He also was a regular end on the football team and a guard on the basketball squad.

In 1952, his All-America year, he was invited to St. Louis to try out for the 1952 Olympic soccer team, but just missed the final cut.

He graduated from State in '53, did an army hitch, became a recreation director in South San Francisco, and then began his teaching career at Alta Loma Junior High School in South City.

If you've ever seen the KYA Radio One-Ders, the touring squad of disc jockeys who hypo high school student body funds by engaging their faculties in basketball games, you've probably seen Kashevaroff. He is generally one of the officials (along, usually, with Jefferson's Mike Orlich) who close their eyes whenever the now legendary The Boss enters the game and tends to make a farce of it.

MORE LOCAL THINGS: We Owe an apology to the Jenkins brothers of Terra Nova. Couple of weeks ago we had Tiger footballer and student body president, Ken, marrying his brother's wife. What we mean is, ex-Tiger football great Larry is really the guy who married Charlene. Ken is Barbara's boy friend.

Now, is that clear, or must we explain it again next week?

NO, NO, we can't take any credit for the Drysdale-Koufax signing. The facts that our column suggesting they sign quick while Walter O'Malley was still in a benevolent mood came out on Wednesday morning and they signed Wednesday afternoon were not related. And besides, Drysdale and Koufax are not regular readers of this column.

AND FOR YOU fight fans, in lieu of having remained silent on Cassius Clay (who proved, in the Chuvalo fight, something which we've often contended . . . that he can't hit), some interesting facts from the GOOD days of boxing:

You think Patterson, Clay, et al, had too little experience to fight for titles?

James J. Corbett had had less than a dozen professional fights when he defeated John L. Sullivan for the title, and Jim Jeffries had had only 12 fights when he chilled Bob Fitzsimmons for the heavyweight championship.

Former bantamweight champ Vic Toweel had had only three pro fights when he won the South African bantam title; only eight when he took the South African feather title; just 10 when he won the British Empire bantam championship; and a mere 13 when he conquered the great Manuel Ortiz for the world's bantamweight title. He was also only 21 at the time. A smart lad, Vic quit when he was 25, and on a winning note, with an eighth round KO of Harry Walker of Johannesburg.

When Toweel, incidentally, won the bantam crown only 18 months after starting as a pro, it marked the shortest time in ring history within which a boxer had won a world title.

In all fairness, however, it should be mentioned that Toweel, like Corbett, had had numerous amateur fights.

Corbett, incidentally, was half a century ahead of his time when he used oxygen in his corner in his 1903 fight with Jim Jeffries in San Francisco. That fight was virtually the forerunner of the historic first Louis-Conn fight. Corbett, trying a comeback, had Jeffries hopelessly outpointed when he ran into a sucker punch, which retired him then and forever. Just as was later to happen with Jack Dempsey, though, Corbett, never popular as a champ, became a ring darling in retirement after heartbreaking defeat.

You think Clay's preposterous when he does things like offer to fight two contenders on the same night?

Battling Levinsky once not only fought three main events on one day, but did it in three different locations! It happened on New Year's Day, 1915, and he just had to be under the influence . . . or maybe his opponents. He fought 10 round no-decision bouts in Brooklyn and New York in the morning and afternoon, and then went to a furious 12-round draw with tough Gunboat Smith that night in Waterbury, Conn.

But Tony Galento may have topped that one. In 1931, in Detroit, he knocked out three men in one night in a total of five rounds!

Two final gems: 448 reporters showed up for the Jack Sharkey-Young Stribling fight in 1929.

Chamber Plans Golf Tourney

The eleventh annual Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce's Golf Tournament will be held at Lake Merced Golf and Country Club on June 9.

The chamber says it has received numberous requests for tickets for the event.

Those intending to play in the affair are asked to begin forming their foursomes now.

EASTER BASEBALL INVITATIONAL

Camino, South S.F. Nines Finish 6th, 7th in Tourney

N. County Clubs Nab Just 2 Wins

For the two host teams of the annual South San Francisco Invitational Baseball Tournament, the six-day affair was a bust.

Between them, El Camino and South San Francisco High Schools won only two of six games.

Berkeley won the tournament by routing Balboa of San Francisco last Saturday, 7-1.

South San Francisco High School scored a run in the top of the twelfth inning to shade Richmond, 4-3, and take seventh place in the tournament last Friday.

In other action at Orange Park, cross-town El Camino was sidelined by Sacred Heart in the consolation championship game, 3-1.

"This has been a real fine tournament," said tourney chairman and South S.F. High coach Bob Brian. "The games have been real good, the crowds real good and the weatherman has co-operated to his fullest extent," Brian added.

His Warriors finally cracked the charmed win circle in the tournament after three frustrations. Richmond, playing its second extra-inning contest in as many days, gambled on a double-play with one out and SSF's John Moro legged it home from third base with the winning run. Moro had opened the inning with a walk and went to third on Vince Olson's single.

The Warriors overcame a 1-0 Richmond lead in the top of the third inning with three runs to Ron Beall, a single by Bob Aurigemma, an interference call, an error and a sacrifice bunt by Larry Asterlind. However, Richmond tied it up in the bottom of the fourth, 3-3, and that is the way the game went until Moro scored in the 12th.

Brian cited some fine defensive plays by fielders Joe Mederios and Olson.

In the second contest of the afternoon, Camino hurler Paul Jones hit two Sacred Heart batters on two consecutive pitches with the bases loaded in the top of the fourth inning to force in two runs and give the Irish a 2-0 lead. They added an insurance run in the top of the fourth when Jeff Collins scored on Chuck Bolton's single.

Camino garnered its lone counter in the bottom of the fifth frame when two errors, a walk and a fielder's choice enabled shortstop Steve Jones to score from third.

El Camino, which never hit one ball out of the infield, still managed to score en route to a 5-3 victory over Richmond last Thursday. The win was aided by five Richmond errors.

In the other game, homers by Skip O'Brien and Bill Klotovich gave Sacred Heart an early lead in a 5-0 triumph over South San Francisco. Luther Gregory hurled the last five innings for the losers and allowed but two hits.

The opening round was a black day for the home teams.

El Camino and South San Francisco both lost to San Francisco schools.

A fourth-inning, three - run homer by Atrell Baker gave Balboa a 4-2 victory over El Camino in the tourney's opening game. Baker's big blow came with two out and after two Balboa batters had walked.

In the day's second game, St. Ignatius scored three runs in the fourth and fifth innings en route to a 6-4 triumph over South San Francisco. The Warriors got only five hits and made four errors in the contest.

PeeWee Puckster

JOHNNY ROLLER, 11, of Colma, skates hard for the puck as his San Francisco Redwing hockey team upsets the Van Nuys Hawks, 8-7, in a two-game set in San Francisco's Legg's Ice Arena. Johnny is one of ten North County boys on the hockey club which will play Portland for the Western regional title this weekend.

N. County Boys Lead Hockey Unit

North County boys formed the bulk of the San Francisco Redwings Pee Wee hockey team that edged the Van Nuys Hawks, 8-7, in a composite two-game series that decided the state championship.

The wings will host the Far Western Championships this weekend at Legg's Ice Arena in San Francisco.

The Redwings will duel Portland in a two-game series. Game times are 5:15 p.m. Saturday and 12:15 p.m. Sunday.

Ten of the 15 boys on the Wings' club are from the North County.

Padres Edge Tough Tiger Nine, 2-1

The Serra High School baseball team, getting some good mound support from Bill Bailey and Al Paganucci, held on for a 2-1 victory over tough Terra Nova in a practice game at the Tiger field last Wednesday.

Bailey, who twirled the first five innings, was awarded the victory as the duo combined to limit the Tigers to six hits.

Serra scored in the first inning when Larry Fracouer doubled down the left field line, moved to third on a ground ball and scored on a suicide squeeze bunt by Art Buhs.

The Pads scored what proved to be the winning run in the top of the third when Fracouer hit a bunt single, moved to third on Dan Hile's single and was sent home by Buhs' safety.

Pat Winslow Has Baby Boy

Former Capuchino track and field athlete Pat Daniels Winslow became the mother of a baby boy last Monday night at Mills Memorial Hospital in San Mateo.

Mrs. Winslow, who represented the U.S. in the 1960 Olympic Games in Italy in the 880 run, is the wife of James Winslow, a San Mateo policeman.

The baby, named Bradley Bakar Winslow, weighed eight pounds, nine ounces.

Pat gave up track in order to raise a family.

She is currently the female athletic director at Woodlake in San Mateo.

TIGER BASEBALLER DISABLED

Terra Nova's Bob Marr Had High Hopes

By JOHN HORGAN

Bob Marr of Terra Nova High School had big plans for this baseball season. But, as of now, those plans are a bust.

Marr, slated to be one of the North County's best pitchers, suffered a severely dislocated left hip in an automobile accident on December 9 and might not pitch again for two or three years.

"I went to the doctor's last Monday and he told me that a little head that fits on the hip is deteriorating and there isn't a whole lot we can do about it," lamented the 6-6, 240-pound right-hander over the telephone last week.

Marr was driving some friends to school on that foggy morning when a Jefferson Union High School District school bus rammed the car.

Bob and his parents are suing the school district over the accident but it's small solace for what's happened to the massive athlete.

"I was in traction for 45 days after the accident," said Bob. "I lost about ten pounds in the hospital mostly from inactivity but have gained it all back now."

The husky pitcher did not exactly rip up the North Peninsula League last year as his Tigers failed to win a league game all year and Marr went 0-8. .....

But his earned average was below 3.00. It's in the summer league that he perked up and began to make big league scouts take notice.

"Our Terra Nova team played for Fisher Realty in the San Francisco summer league and finished in second place with Balboa. I went 6-1-1 for us there and had some scouts talking to me. All that kind of flew out the window with the accident."

Bob is a transfer student from the East Bay. He attended Granada as a sophomore and Livermore as a freshman. His penchant for bad luck hit him first in his frosh year when he tore ligaments in his right knee while playing football.

BOB MARR
Injured Tiger

When he arrived at Terra Nova in his junior year the grid coaches took one look at his mammoth frame and started measuring an all-league jacket for him. But his Pacifica doctor nixed the gridiron for him because of the knee.

He played basketball for the Tigers last year and played behind all-league center Rich Schaefer. Bob was set for a first string slot this year on the TN five but that injury kept him off the courts.

But baseball is his real forte now. Or was—if that hip doesn't heel properly.

"I'd like to go to Linfield College (Oregon) and play for my uncle, Roy Helser, who coaches up there," explained Marr. "I've also made application to go to CSM. My grades are average, about a C, so I can't exactly pick my college. But I do want to go to college." However, if and when his hip mends, the pro scouts might have other ideas.

Marr's high school coach, Al Figone, said at the start of the present baseball season that his pitcher would have been "one of the best in the area."

Figone is convinced that, if he had Marr this season, the whole balance of power in the NPL would be shifted around. "There's no doubt about it. With Bob we would have been a real contender."

There is little doubt that the loss of Marr has changed the complexion of the league. Every coach contacted said the same thing: Marr's disabling injury has been the key to the season so far.

But comments on the potential of the big hurler are small solace for Figone.

Everytime the blooky form of Bob Marr shuffles by his door on crutches Figone winces. He keeps thinking about the season that might have been.

Program For Fitness Set

The Pacifica Junior Chamber of Commerce will begin its annual Junior Champ project tomorrow at Oceana and Terra Nova High Schools' athletic fields.

Tomorrow's activities will commence a month-long series of clinics aimed at developing interest in physical fitness and in track and field.

The climax of the project will be the Junior Olympics competition to be held at the Terra Nova High School field on Saturday, May 14.

All elementary school children up to age 14 are eligible to participate in the program.

Westlake Bowl

The Westlake Lounge team took home the championship in the Lakeside Mixed Fives League after a rolloff between the three teams who ended the regular season in a three-way tie for first place. Tied with 47 wins and 37 losses were Jesse James Used Cars, The Five Fish and the Westlake Lounge teams.

In second place at the end of the regular season, only one game out, was the Delucchi Sheet Metal team. Members of the winning team were Lita Lockhart, Beth Jones, Jean Griffiths, Don Jones, Art Nelson and Dale Warnick. Art led the scoring in the final rolloff with a 569 series on games of 200-161 and 208.

Another 600 series was posted in the Inter-Parish League, this time by Rich Knadler, with 602 on games of 223-190 and 189. Doreen Daneri was the leading lady in the Ladies 850 Scratch League, shooting a 617 series on games of 197-215 and 205.

This is league meeting week at Westlake as organizational meetings are scheduled for some of the spring-summer leagues. There are still openings in all leagues for those wishing to keep physically fit during the summer months.

Frank Boichot upheld the honor of the "older fellas" in the Sunday morning Father and Son League as he rolled a great 244 game and 631 series as Paul Biancalana shot 191-556 to lead the sons. As the Westlake Wedlocks ended the season with the A-1 Nursery team as champions, Eve Harper and Bill Greer took top honors—Eve with 199-528 and Bill with a 228 game and 661 series.

Three 600 series were posted in the 99'ers Mixed Fives League as George Alvord rolled 227-611, Val Valencia, 213-603 and Ham Hamilton, 230-608. Phyllis Shirley led the ladies with 180-504. Leading the Bankers League for the week was George Lowther with a 201 game and 551 series.Red Zan topped the Dusters Handicap League for the week with a 231 game and 567 series.

After winning 11 of the last 12 games, our Junior 900 team returns "home" next Sunday as the league visits Westlake. In defeating the Country Club team in two games, Larry Hilburn missed the first game but shot a 415 total for the second and third games. A large rooting section is expected to be on hand next Sunday at 6 P.M. to cheer our boys on to victory.

Ruth Keefe was again a double leader as she took high game and high series honors in the St. Thomas More League with 189 and 494. Split converters were Maryruth Cook, the 7-8, and Eunice Kuykendall, the 5-10.

Thelma Stetz proved that her all time high daytime series was no fluke as she again led the Morning Glories League—this time with a 248 game and 573 series.

Alice Schneider led the St. Emydius Belles with a 185 game and 475 series. Phyllis Erlich with 188 and Cynthia Tauber with 459 led the B'nai B'rith Ladies League for the week. Rosalie Lazor converted the 5-7 split.

CSM Wins Horsehide Tournament

College of San Mateo baseball coach John Noce is hoping that his team doesn't break the precedent established by the San Jose City College baseball team one year ago.

The Bulldog nine added a prestigious feather in its cap and an intangible omen to its 1966 Golden Gate Conference title hopes last week when it won the second annual San Jose City College Easter baseball tournament.

All eight GGC teams, plus eight other junior college champions and powers participated in the tourney with the Matean emerging as the victors. In the only other tournament completed, San Jose won it last year and then went on to win the Golden Gate Conference championship.

"I hope that we can use this as a springboard towards the title," said an optimistic CSM coach John Noce after winning the 16-team affair. "Our defense jelled and we played the type of baseball that we are capable of playing," he added.

The Bulldogs annexed the tourney yesterday by whipping Chabot in the first game, 2-1, and then coming back in the championship game to beat Fresno City College, 6-0.

"They are both real fine games and both pitchers Rick Deutscher and Bill DiVita pitched excellent games," Noce stated. "The two have worked hard all season and I gave them a chance to start in lieu of using our frontline hurling staff," the CSM mentor replied.

Jones Off S.S.F. Nine

Greg Jones, South San Francisco High School's greatest all-around athlete in history, has been dropped from the Warriors' baseball team it was learned last week.

Jones was dismissed from the Warrior nine for disciplinary reasons.

Pressures from football recruiters was blamed for much of the purported trouble which the S.S.F. star was having.

San Mateo Nipped By 'Tang Unit

Rodger Carmine scored on a fielder's choice in the eighth inning to give Capuchino High School a 5-4 win over San Mateo High School in an extra-inning practice baseball game here last Wednesday.

Carmine was hit by a pitch and moved into scoring position with a single by Russ Pape and a walk to pitcher Russ Antrocoli. He scored on a grounder to short.

Wes Robinson hit two base-empty triples for the winners and Bob Smith hit a two-run three-bagger for San Mateo. Antrocoli was the winning pitcher. Ron Sorg was the loser.

VACATION OVER

NPL Action Is Set to Perk Up

With the Easter vacation over and the students returned to their classrooms, the prep sports beat picks up in intensity this week in the North Peninsula League.

Tomorrow, two swimming meets highlight the high school action: El Camino will be at Oceana and South San Francisco will travel to Jefferson. Both matches start at 3 p.m.

South San Francisco is the favorite in the NPL this season. Only five of the schools field swimming teams. Half Moon Bay and Westmoor do not.

Baseball activity, after games played yesterday afternoon, continues Friday with a key game. El Camino, the league leader as of last week, hosts Terra Nova, one of the North County's most surprising units this year, at 3:15 p.m. on the Colts' diamond.

In other games Friday, Jefferson will be at Westmoor and Oceana will play South S.F. in Pacifica. Both tilts start at 3:15 p.m.

Jefferson, one of the league's favorities according to the coaches, is out to end the South San Francisco domination of the NPL's baseball title this year.

A South San Francisco club has won the league crown every year since the inception of the circuit and the Indians, who have not won their share of NPL varsity titles in the past, are set on making amends this spring.

In track Friday, powerful Westmoor plays host to tiny Half Moon Bay, Oceana duels South S. F. in Pacifica and Terra Nova travels to Jefferson. All meets start at 3 p.m.

The lecture will be held at the San Francisco Stake Center of the Mormon Church located at 1399 Brunswick Street, Daly City.

The subject of the Lecture is "Christin Science, The Revelation of Spiritual Law."

The lecturer is Paul Stark Seeley of Portland. Care will be provided for young children.

Westlake Lutheran Couples To Attend Asilomar Retreat

This weekend three couples of Westlake Lutheran Crurch will attend a retreat for "new age people" at Asilomar in Pacific Grove.

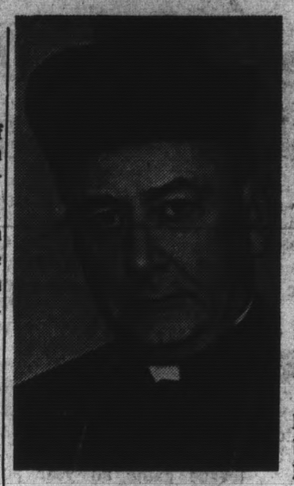
Mr. and Mrs. David Boice, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Langosch, and Dr. and Mrs. Daniel Love will join other Lutherans from the San Francisco, Sacramento, and Los Angeles areas to examine the style of the Christian life and tentative new shapes of the church and its ministry.

The Rev. John Schultz of the Division of Youth Activities of the American Lutheran Church is the guest leader for the weekend.

Women of the congregation will attend the Golden Gate ALCW Converence Convention this Saturday at Grace Lutheran Church in San Francisco.

Guest speaker on the theme, "God's Word for a New Age," is the Rev. Reuben Gornitzka of Palm Desert.

On Sunday evening the youth of the church have planned an ice skating party.



ARCHBISHOP JOSEPH T. MCGUCKEN

Archbishop Day Planned

President of the Colma branch of the Italian Catholic Federation Ario Gregori, will help the society celebrate its annual archbishop's day, Sunday.

A mass will be held at 5:30 p.m., Sunday, at St. Peter's and Paul's Church in North Beach in San Francisco.

A banquet honoring Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken, will be held at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel in San Francisco at 6:30.

Tickets are on sale for $8.50 per person.

Sugar... 'n' Spice

By NELL NORTON

SOME HOMEMAKERS complain that the hardest part of feeding their family is meal-planning. Once they have decided what they will have, the purchasing and cooking the meal is a snap. In case this is one of those days in your life when you can't think of what to have for dinner, I'll suggest a menu that might appeal to you and your family.

The meat on the menu is lamb shanks. They are a great favorite in my family and the simple preparation makes them tops on the cook's list too. Lamb shanks are inexpensive and give you lots of sweet, juicy meat.

WEDNESDAY DINNER
Baked Lamb Shanks — Boiled Potatoes
Buttered Carrots — Spinach Salad
Bread Pudding with Lemon Sauce

BAKED LAMB SHANKS

4 lamb shanks
Garlic salt and pepper

Wipe off the shanks with a damp cloth and sprinkle with garlic salt and pepper. Place in a greased baking dish and bake in 350-degree oven 1½ hours or until meat is tender.

BOILED POTATOES

Pare and quarter enough potatoes to feed four. Cook in boiling water until tender when pierced with a fork. Drain and place in the baking dish with the lamb shanks for the last 15 minutes of cooking time. This allows the potatoes to brown a bit and soak up some of the delicious lamb flavor.

BUTTERED CARROTS

Scrape and wash carrots. Cut crosswise and boil until tender in a minimum amount of water. Drain. Add salt and pepper.

SPINACH SALAD

Select young and tender spinach. Wash carefully and cut into narrow strips with your kitchen shears. Shake off the excess water. Hard cook two eggs and chop the whites and yolks separately. Sprinkle these over the spinach and serve with oil and vinegar dressing.

The amounts I've suggested so far will serve four. But in giving the quantities for the bread pudding I'll give a larger pudding. If you wish you may half the recipe for four.

BREAD PUDDING

2 cups dry bread, broken into small pieces
4 cups of milk, scalded
2 eggs
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup raisins

Soak bread in milk until soft. Beat eggs well; add sugar, salt, nutmeg, vanilla and raisins. Mix thoroughly with bread and milk.

Pour into a greased baking dish and set in a pan of water. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) one hour or until a knife inserted in center comes out clean. Serve with lemon sauce.

LEMON SAUCE

½ cup sugar
1 tablespoon corn-starch
1 cup boiling water
2 tablespoon butter
2 tablespoon lemon juice
Dash of salt

Mix the sugar and cornstarch, add the boiling water and a dash of salt and boil until thick and clear, stirring constantly. Boil five minutes, remove from the fire and add the butter and lemon juice.

SPEAKING OF desserts, I want to pass on a recipe from Mrs. Phyllis Cecchettini who lives at 1943 Forty-forth Avenue, in San Francisco. This makes a very pretty dessert and is excellent after a large meal as it's light and frothy. It serves 10 to 12.

JELLY ROLL CAKE

1 large can evaporated milk
2 package lemon gelatin
3 cups hot water
1 small can crushed pineapple
2 tablespoons sugar
Drop of vanilla
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ pint whipped cream, whipped
1¼ cups graham cracker crumbs
1 package small jelly rolls (4 to the package)

Prepare a spring form pan by buttering the bottom and sides, lightly. Spread the graham cracker crumbs over the bottom, not the sides. Slice the jelly rolls into three-fourth-inch slices and arrange around the sides of the pan.

Combine gelatin and hot water. Stir until all the gelatin is dissolved and place in refrigerator to chill until syrupy. Pour the evaporated milk into an ice cube tray and place in the freezer and allow to freeze just until little fingers of ice appear on the edges. Remove and whip.

Add the syrupy gelatin mixture to the whipped milk, next add the crushed pineapple, sugar, vanilla and lemon juice. Whip all together and pour into the prepared spring form pan. Place in refrigerator overnight.

Top with whipped cream and serve.

A Change at the Helm

YWCA to Hold A New Program For Housewives

"Holyday for Housewives," a new YWCA program, will feature special guest speaker, John F. Boucher, of Determined Productions, tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. at the Westlake Community Baptist Church.

This will be of real interest to "Peanuts" fans, as Determined Productions is responsible for the well-known "Peanuts" calendars, dolls, sweatshirts, and other novelties based on the ever-popular comic strip.

Boucher will explain the company's unique origin, its rapid growth, and will display and discuss Determined's merchandise.

In addition, an autographed copy of one of Charles Schutz's "Peanuts" books will be given away.

Daly City Garden Club Installs Its New Officers

John Fern of 5 Morningside Drive has been installed as the new president of the Daly City Garden Club.

He and other officers formally took office at the club's 17th annual installation dinner at Joe's of Westlake Restaurant in Daly City, last week.

Speakers included Daly City Mayor Francis Pacelli who spoke on ways the club could assist the city in making the area a more beautiful place in which to live.

Other guests included Mrs. Marian Winship, California State Garden Clubs president, and Mrs. Sprague Smith, state parliamentarian of garden clubs.

The new officers were installed by Mrs. G. A. Panerelos, director of the Bay-Ocean District of Garden Clubs.

William Huston, outgoing president of the Daly City club, awarded the club's president's trophy to Richard Hunter for "dedicated service to the club and to the community."

A special trophy was awarded to Huston's wife for contributions to the club during the three years he served as its president.

Charter members present included Mrs. Hoke Garrison, Mrs. Ella Streeter and Mrs. C. M. Yohn.

Past presidents included Mrs. Joseph Kusber, Mrs. Joseph P. Schultz, and Mrs. Yohn.

Commendations lauding Daly City for civic beautification were presented to Mayor Pacelli. They had been received from Lady Bird Johnson and the California Roadside Council.

S.S.F. Recreation Department to Hold Ballroom Dancing

The ballroom dance group sponsored by the South San Francisco Recreation Department announces the start of a new series for beginning dancers.

The group of lessons will start on Thursday, April 21, at 7:30 p.m. at Buri Buri School, 120 El Campo Street.

Intermediate students will meet on the same evening at 8:30 p.m.

The instruction and recreational dancing are under the supervision of Bill and Helen Morrow, well-known professional dance instructors.

Adults interested in joining the group may register at the opening session at Buri Buri School.

San Andreas Will Meet on Monday

The San Andreas P-TA will hold their monthly meeting Monday at 3:15 p.m. in the multi-purpose room at the San Andreas School.

Approximately 120 children from the primary classes of the school will present a Song Festival and Folk Dance under the direction of Mrs. Beth Howar.

Free movies for other school children and free sitting for toddlers will be provided.

Art Show Is Slated

The Art Guild of Pacifica is currently showing thirty paintings in the Coral Room of hte Westlake main branch, Daly City Public Library, 275 Southgate Avenue.

The exhibit features a variety of styles, realistic, impressionistic and abstract. The media is varied, oil, watercolor, pen and ink and acrylic. The show includes an excellent copy of Picasso's "Woman in the Looking Glass."

The paintings will be on display through the months of April and May. The library Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday. All paintings are for sale.

"Adult Hobbies" Is City of Hope Topic

The Northern Peninsula Chapter of the City of Hope will meet tonight at 8, in the meeting room of the Bay View Federal Savings office in Millbrae.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Joan Brockman, teacher of arts and crafts, who will discuss and demonstrate "adult hobbies."

Guests are invited to attend.

Lincoln Group Readies Meeting

The Abraham Lincoln P-TA will hold its meeting Tuesday, at 7:15 p.m. in the multi-use room of the school.

Unit officers for the 1966-67 school year will be elected.

The theme for the evening will be "Centennial Open House." At 7:30 p.m. Edward Mosconi, principal, will give a welcoming address entitled "A Year In Review."

Jewish Center Plans Benefit

The Jewish Community Center on Brotherhood Way in San Francisco will sponsor its first benefit Sunday.

A "silent" auction and champagne tea will be held at the Cory Gallery in San Francisco from 4 to 7 p.m.

Hostesses will include Mrs. Albert Polonsky and Mrs. Murray H. Freedman. Tickets may be obtained from the center or from Mrs. Joseph Portnoy, JU 5-4529.

No Fines This Week At Library

In keeping with the spirit of National Library Week, April 17-23, no fines will be collected by any of the branches of the Daly City Public Library.

"Borrowers can bring back the overdues and be certain that we'll ask no questions," promised Mrs. Servert Ojakian of the Westlake Libry Circulation Department.

Besides declaring the moritorium on fines, the officials of the library extend an invitation to all the residents of Daly City to visit the various branches of the library during the national observance.

Since its inception in 1920 the Daly City Public Library has grown from a one-room library with 500 books to an institution with three branches and a collection that includes books, phonograph records, paintings, films, pamphlets, newspapers and magazines.

The branches are located at 6351 Mission Street, 275 Southgate, and 129 Acacia. Smauel C. Chandler is the present city librarian. Mrs. Helen Staub is president of the Library Board of Trustees.

Rummage Sale Is Readied By St. Veronica's

The mountain of rummage donated by families from St. Veronica's Parish has been sorted and tagged and is now ready for sle.

This annual rummage sale will be held tomorrow, Friday, and Saturday at St. Veronica's School Hall on Alida Way in South San Francisco.

Chairman Mrs. Leo Makowski sums up the rummage situation by stating, "Name it and we probably have it!"

Doors will open at 10 a.m. each day of the sale and will close at 9 p.m. tmorrow and Friday and at noon on Saturday.

Proceeds from the event will benefit the St. Veronica's Building Fund.

Two Merchant Groups Vow Aid for Pacifica Bus Line

An agreement to help support Pacifica's local transportation company, El Mar Transit, has been obtained from two merchants' associations according to Bernard Lake, manager of the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce

El Mar Transit, known popularly as "The Little Red Buses" had been providing Pacifica with a full schedule of services until several months ago when the company encountered financial difficulty and had to continue on a limited schedule. John Cushing is the owner.

Merchants from the Linda Mar Shopping Center and the Eureka Square Shopping Center have offered to help subsidize the bus line.

At a meeting today, aid also will be asked from Pacific Manor Shopping Center merchants, Lake said.

If help is also forthcoming from Pacifica Manor, Lake said, a report of the support pledged will then be made to the Pacifica City Council.

Until then, the buess will continue to run on a full schedule in Linda Mar and on a limited schedule until noon daily in the north end of the city.

That Odor Wasn't Blades

The odor of the last-place Los Angeles Blades ice hockey team was not the only aroma that pervaded Daly City's Cow Palace last Friday night.

While the Blades were being shut out, 8-0, by the San Francisoc Seals in their Western Hockey League game, a huge pile of horse and cow manure burned and smouldered in the animal stall area on the north wing.

Daly City firemen extinguished the noisome fire after they received the alarm at 9 p.m. by spreading the manure out on the floor and wetting it down with water.

The simmering excrement was ignited by its own self-generated heat, according to a fire official.

There was no damage done to the building.

Furnace Fire Extinguished In Daly City

A Daly City girl's quick call for help early last Wednesday morning when she smelled smike in her apartment resulted in the rapid extinguishing of a small fire in a wall furnace.

Gloria Gambrill, 20, of 405 Palmcrest Drive, thought she smelled something buring at about 1:30 this morning and called for police from her second-story window.

Police heard her calls and notified the fire department.

Miss Gambrill was able to escape to safety through the front door of her small apartment.

The fire was confined to the area around her gas furnace.

No one was injured. The small blaze was put out within minutes of the call.

No estimate of damages had been made this morning.

Sponsors For Girls Asked

Sponsorship of "10 beautiful girls" is being asked by Mrs. Joan Ellison, committee head of the 1966 Miss Pacifica contest and pageant. She suggested that anyone interested in sponsorship can call the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce.

Contestants will model in a fashion show and luncheon to be held at Nick's Restaurant at noon Saturday, April 23. The pageant will be held May 21.

The reigning Miss Pacifica, Debbie Hyers, is a student at the College of San Mateo.

Doll Show Set By D.C.

Daly City's seventh annual Doll Show will be held, under the sponsorship of the Department of Recreation, April 23 and 24 at the War Memorial Building.

Doll owners young and old are invited to enter their dolls for judging.

Ribbons will be awarded to the top three dolls in each division, trophies will be received by the owners of the dolls dolls judged best in the show. Certificates of participation will be presented to each girl who judged best in the show. enters the show.

Further information may be obtained by calling the Department of Recreation at PL 5-0850.

Construction Completed On New Library

The South San Francisco City Council has declared the new Public Library officially completed, upon completion of paving work this week.

The modern building on West Orange Avenue will probably open to the public late this summer, according to Eugene Aiello, city manager.

The interim will be spent in purchasing and installing equipment and furnishings for the new structure, and moving books and equipment from the present building.

Among the items to be purchased and installed is a record-listening table.

While the work of furnishing goes on inside, landscaping will be under way outside.

Among the unique features will be an outdoor amphitheater, suitable for story hours, small plays or gatherings. The area will have a paved central portion, surrounded on three sides by sloping lawns.

Parking is also being provided.

Beneath the library is South San Francisco's Emergency Operating Center. According to Aiello, the center would serve as the core of the city's government in the event of an emergency.

Architects for the modernistic library were Markling and Yamasaki.

The cost of the structure is approximately $750,000.

Paper Quake Scheduled To Hit Pacifica

Plans for a simulated earthquake drill in Pacifica were presented by Frank Peters, assistant director of Civil Defense, at a Pacifica Civil Defense meeting in City Hall last week.

"We are going to destroy most of the city," Peters said, "but most of our action will be on paper this time with no resident participation."

Peters said the "earthquake" would follow the course of the lesser San Andreas faults with the main "damage" centered in the Fairmont subdivision.

Peters said communication men will be out in the field. A command table will be set up at City Hall, which will be considered "saved." He said he felt planners need the most amount of drilling.

Peters will supervise a committee composed of Bob Vreeland, Paul Hanson, Jack Fellows and Kenneth Hill.

In other business, new Civil Defense members were introduced. They are: Dr. Beverley Thomas, in charge of the medical and health section; Robert Blevins, hospital co-ordinator, and Hill, intelligence service officer.

Recreation Is Subject For Budget Meet

The Daly City Recreation Commission met last Wednesday night with City Recreation Director Charles Vincent, in a hearing on Vincent's tentative budget proposals for the forthcoming fiscal year.

Although he has not reached a final figure for the new budget request, Vincent said he will ask more this year than the $159,792 on which the department operated in 1965-66.

Major items in the forthcoming budget, Vincent indicated, will be requests for funds to construct a gymnasium at Westlake Park and a community center building at Marchbanks Park.

Partial funds for the two projects have already been provided, Vincent said. "We are hoping to get the money to finish up these projects which are partly budgeted, he added.

In addition to park and recreation improvements, Vincent said, the request includes addition of one additional full-time person—a clerk typist.

The recreation Department plans with recreation commission approval willnow be reviews by the city manager and other officials, in preparation for budget hearings by the city council scheduled for May and June.

Firemen's Ball Tickets on Sale

The annual Daly City Firemen's Ball will be held on May 21 at the War Memorial Center.

Tickets are priced at $1 per person and are on sale door-to-door throughout the North County city.

The proceeds from the dance are used for paying premiums on insurance for the relatives of Daly City firemen who are members of the Widows and Orphans Association.

A Drive On New D.C. Freeway

A drive on the new Junipero Serra Freeway in Daly City is a most relaxing and enjoyable trip — especially when it's not yet officially open for public use, its midnight and there are no bars to your entrance onto its broad expanse.

The 2.7-mile stretch of new highway (it will some day run all the way to San Jose), which is scheduled to be opened at 11 a.m. on April 14, is not yet lighted or lined but driving on it now is sheer pleasure when compared to neighboring throughways.

A late-night journey on the freeway's flat concrete surface is almost like being in another world.

Georgia Kalnin of Millbrae who made the three-minute trip said that it was "like being in a twilight zone."

All sense of time and distance are diminished because the freeway, in its swath through the center of Daly City, is depressed for much of the way.

It is an eight-lane affair with ample room for more lanes in the future.

The off-and-on ramps have been built with the driver in mind. They are heralded well in advance by massive signs which leave no doubt about what to do and when to do it.

But for all the tranquility and unreal quiet about it now Interstate 280 (as it will be known) is slated to be one of the most heavily traversed parcels of freeway in the state.

It won't be a twilight zone for long.

Award Bestowed

MRS. LILLIAN MANNING, widow of Broadmoor Police Officer Charles Manning, was presented with the Outstanding Service Award posthumously honoring her husband, killed in line of duty two years ago, at a recent meeting of the San Mateo County Committee to Support Your Local Police.

'Outstanding' Students To Be Honored

The Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce will hold its Dinner at 7 p.m. April 21, at Joe's of Westlake Restaurant.

Eight students from Westmoor and Jefferson High Schools will be honored for their academic and extra-curricular activities during the school year.

Westmoor students include:

Robert Brodie of 43 Santa Elena Avenue, Daly City.

R. Michael Shackelford of 205 Village Lane, Colma.

Sue C. Irby of 936 Wildwood Avenue, Colma.

Bruce Herald of 98 Northgate Avenue, Daly City.

Jefferwon students include:

Sandra L. Campbell of 123 Winchester Street, Daly City.

Glenn Ying Gee of 400 Acacia Street, Daly City.

Alan V. McAllister of 428 Woodrow Street, Daly City.

Nina M. Vernazza of 457 East Market Street, Daly City.

Strike Help Is Requested

Help for farm workers who are on strike against Delano grape growers is being asked by a Pacifica organization.

Pacificans for Human Concern will receive donations of non-perishable foods and clothing at 1108 Valencia Street, Pacifica.

Mrs. Roberts said that the farm workers will send a truck to Pacifica for a pick-up when enough supplies have been donated.

Another county group, Concerned Citizens of San Mateo, also have been supporting the protest of the strikers.

SWEETS STOLEN

Somewhere in Daly City there's a thief with a tummy ache.

He's the person who climbed through an unlocked window at the Mission Drive-in Theater and stole some 400 candy bars last week.

COINS ARE COLLECTED

Burglars stole a coin collection valued at over $200 from the Daly City home of John Shubunka, 90 Fernwood Avenue, police reported last week. The loot included $160 in silver dollars.

The Investment In Knowledge

NO TAXPAYER need be told that knowledge is an expensive business. The cost of providing—as Prof. Fritz Machlup of Princeton called it—the production and distribution of knowledge seems to be involved in endless escalation.

One estimate runs as high as $100 billion for education, the largest of the "knowledge industry." Of course, this includes more than formal and official schooling; it also includes education acquired at home and on the job, as well as in the armed services.

To this $100 billion must be added $20 billion for research and development. These activities are also a vital aspect of the knowledge industry, especially when it comes to the practical application of knowledge acquired.

THERE IS another side, of course. Columbia Professor George Becker estimates that the average college entrant realizes a 10 to 12 per cent annual return on his investment in an education. The U.S. Office of Education once put out figures which showed that a college education was worth $100,000 in additional earnings over the lifetime of the individual.

Beyond that are the additional amounts earned by society as a whole. Edward Dennison of the Brookings Institution contends that about 40 per cent of the economic growth between 1929 and 1957 derived from the investment in education.

Dennison believes that the rising educational level of the U.S. labor force was responsible for 23 per cent of the growth in real national income during the period, while 20 per cent derived from investment in reseach and development and in improved management procedures. He forecasts that the growth epected by 1980 will be similarly influenced by the investment in knowledge.

THESE FACTS, impressive as they may be, are not intended to suggest that the process is infinite or that investment in the knowledge industry should be made recklessly or without weighing alternatives. On the countrary, part of the application of knowledge is to determine which investment is likely to bear fruit.

Hershey Directive to Hit Students With Low Grades

LT. GEN. LEWIS B. HERSHEY'S directive that college students with low grades will be subject to losing their draft deferment status "in the near future" will bring to an end the almost total deferment policy which has been in effect for some years for college students.

In returning to draft guidelines similar to those in effect during the Korean War, the Selective Service director has made two points: the nation needs military recruits beyond the number now available to it, and the high school graduate who has no real college aptitude but goes on to higher education with the idea of evading the draft may find his plans changed.

M. Pauline Brown School

M. PAULINE BROWN SCHOOL at 305 Eastmoor Avenue, Daly City, opened in 1961. Enrollment this year totals 421 students in grades kindergarten through six. The school also houses the district's classes for the hard-of-hearing. The building has 12 rooms. Donald Pagani has been the principal since the school opened. The building was named after the late Margaret Pauline Brown, a long-time teacher at Jefferson School and active in community affairs. (Post-Times Photo)

Better Business

Fake Insurors Bilk the Public

Lorene Beasley

BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU has had many inquiries by persons in this area concerning mailings from insurance companies not licensed in this state.

The American public who buy insurance from unknown and unlicensed companies and those who are involved in accidents with the individuals covered by this insurance are annually being robbed of millions of dollars.

Insurance company swindles not only take business away from the legitimate insurance agent but the integrity of the entire insurance industry is questioned.

The insurance swindlers prey upon persons who have difficulty in obtaining insurance coverage because of age, race or the area in which they reside.

They also operate in the high risk fields such as long haul trucking, offshore drilling rigs, health and accident insurance.

THE SCHEME used by the majority of the swindlers falls into two main categories.

Category one: The promoters set up a "suitcase company" that issues insurance policies worth only the value of the paper they are printed on.

Some of these phony insurance companies are chartered in the Bahamas for as little as $140. Other charters are purchased in the United States.

The swindlers sometimes put up phony stock and bond portfolios to show their financial responsibilities in the individual states.

In 1965, six persons were convicted of operating fraudulent insurance companies and another 24 persons were indicted on mail fraud charges. At present some 15 insurance companies are under investigation by the Postal Inspection Service.

TWO SWINDLERS who resided in Southern California established Medicare Life Insurance, Ltd., headquartered in Nassau, Bahamas. They sent out 100,000 brochures to California residents, offering an inexpensive medical coverage for these over 65.

The coverage was broad and cheap — $12 a month or $114 a year — if paid in advance. The premiums were to be sent to a Washington, D.C. post office box number. The Post Office had instructions to forward the company's mail on to the Bahamas and further instructions in Bahamas were to forward it on to Mexico.

Postal authorities' awareness clipped this promotion in the bud. Because of the issuance of a postal fraud order, the thousands of dollars put into the mail by oldsters and addressed to the swindlers never reached their intended destination.

CATEGORY TWO: The promoters take over an existing firm and drain it of its assets. Swindlers work on the theory that an insurance company can, as a rule, be milked of all assets in about three year's time.

As premium collections must be carried as a liability, a dishonest firm can wipe out that liability by re-insuring with another firm. The company's paper financial liability is strengthened by re-insuring with another firm.

Claims usually run 30 to 35 per cent of the premium collections. A proper insurance contract provides that the re-insurer will pay out 65 to 70 per cent of the premium collections on claims.

A fraudulent operator will permit the re-insurer to pay off as little as 50 per cent of the premium collection on claims.

As losses will invariably run higher than 50 per cent, it is inevitable that the firm being re-insured loses money. These companies pay off small claims in order to keep the number of complaints down.

ANOTHER MILKING scheme is to turn over the furniture, office equipment and any other insurance company property to a leasing company. The leasing company may actually be owned by the operators of the insurance company.

In this manner, the operators of the company pay themselves for the use of the property, which is actually their property.

Check with your Better Business Bureau or state insurance commissioner's office to get the fact on insurance before buying.

The Season Of Procrastination

Don Miller

NO MATTER how militantly we've tried to look the other way, no matter how steadfastly we've tried just to forget it, no matter how adroit we've been at the art of procrastination —there it is, that deadline staring us right in the face.

It happens every year with exasperating regularity, this deadline business, and regardless of how vehemently we resolve in the waning hours of each April 14 not to wait so long next year when the next time rolls around, the scene is painfully identical.

Paying (and computing) one's state and federal income taxes each year is a fate to which we were all involuntarily relegated to a long time ago, but despite the monotonous familiarity, we really never seem to get used to the idea.

Procrastination, it may be said with few demurrers, reaches its zenith in this land of ours in March and April and thus we have the predictable sight each year of an incredible stack of fat mail bags overwhelming the quarters of each district office of the Internal Revenue Service around April 15.

This is because, according to the IRS people, about half of the general public mails in its returns a month or more before the deadline and the other half sweats it out right into the eleventh hour.

Which means that the gentlemen in blue who man the country's law enforcement apparatus should have a breeze Friday night — ordinarily a hell-raiser—because an awful lot of people will be peering at piles of receipts and check stubs and rapidly filling ash trays as Father Time marches resolutely toward midnight.

IN AN EFFORT to make the torture a little less torturous this year, the IRS has revised the standard form 1040 somewhat to make it easier to read.

What struck us right in the old tax table was the startling revelation by the IRS that the revisions also were incorporated to make old 1040 "more attractive."

(Yup! That's what it says right there on the first page of that annual forced-seller, "Instructions for Preparing Your Federal Income Tax Return Form 1040 for 1965").

It's like telling a guy waiting for the gas chamber that they've decided to make things "more attractive" by having him sit down in a comfortable, sealed living room with a beer and a copy of Playboy and before he knows it, he'll be asleep.

Maybe it's a little extreme to compare facing the gas chamber to filling out one's income tax but in many households the comparison isn't too far off. You all know the scene on deadline night—it's an atmosphere of impending doom, furrowed brows, and large pots of coffee.

Dinner that night is usually sparse with conversation and not too appetizing. The wife has been too preoccupied with how to shore up her husband's morale and stamina during the struggle ahead to be imaginative in the kitchen.

After the dishes have been cleared from the table, somewhere far away Dad seems to hear a clock ticking and that means that it's just no use any longer—it's time to get to it.

So he sharpens the pencils, piles up the scratch pads, flattens out the W-2 form, spreads out old 1040, lights up the first of umpteen cigarettes and with a clearly discernible scowl, plunges in.

NOW IN THE more practical households, a lot of spadework will have been accomplished by the time deadline night is at hand. Like, the check stubs for past year will have been exhumed, the receipts will have been unearthed and the forced-seller will have been carefully digested.

In the true procrastinator's household, however, absolutely none of these preparations will have been accomplished, yet alone even thought about.

It is in these households that the air of crisis begins to thicken as the half hours become hours and midnight begins to loom up the way an onrushing locomotive looks to a driver in a small car, stuck on the railroad tracks.

If check stubs and receipts are missing, the whole family is mobilized into a search party and before the evening is through, the house has been so thoroughly ransacked that it would make a professional burglar's handiwork appear amateurish.

When subs and receipts, alas, can't be found, the last resort is memory and it's always interesting to note how widely recollections can vary when it comes to such a thing as arriving at the amount of a deductible expense.

AT THIS POINT in the proceedings, the scene of battle can roughly be described as chaotic. The air is a mixture of cigarette smoke and the aroma of an overused eraser.

The breadwinner is slumped back in his chair, his face either in his hands or looking upward as if he can see missing figures written on the ceiling. In front of him is a table strewn—yea buried—with a profusion of papers and so many scrawled notations and figures that you'd think the federal budget was in the works.

The lady of the house is trying to do what she can—empty the ash tray, refill the coffee cup (or the highball glass if the battle is going badly) and in general try to be cheerful through otherwise clenched teeth. For she knows if it were HER responsibility, old 1040 would have been whipped a long time ago. (that's what they always say, men, but we know otherwise).

Finally, however, the missing figures somehow fall into place and urged on by a frantic pencil, old 1040 heads for the moment of truth—the amount owing (horrors!) or the amount of refund (hallelujah).

The degree or horror or joy depends upon the size of the last figure but whatever it is, at least another deadline night will have slipped into history.

And that, as any true procrastinator will tell you, is why the day after April 15 always seems to be such a great day.

The Marquee

'Fiddler' To Pack 'em In

Barbara Bladen

THERE'S A JOKE around New York that the gentiles would love the musical production "Fiddler on the Roof" if the Jews would let them in.

In San Francisco, the situation will be that gentiles and Jews will get to see it if Civic Light Opera subscription holders and eager, early ticket buyers will let them.

The rush is on to see this universal story based on the folk tales on Sholom Aleichem that is making the local musical season more sought after than ever before with tickets selling for the New York production up through five years.

Edwin Lester, the inside man on the West Coast for first run musicals and annual revivals that often rival the original, held his annual press luncheon last week. He gave us the "scoop" on the coming season and the "dope" on the aftermath of last year's season.

"Fiddler" is one of the finest shows I've ever booked into a CLO season," he claims. "There were six shows in the last few years that I could have got along without. But they were the best available at the time."

Although his lavish and polished production of "Great Waltz" of last season was slated to reopen on Broadway, there was no theater to put it into and he couldn't hold his company together any longer.

FROM THAT PRODUCTION he's brought back Frank Poretta as his choice of the "best possible person for the revival of "Student Prince'." He contends that Civic Light Opera began with musical shows but has succumbed to the trend toward musical plays such as "West Side Story" and "Hello Dolly."

"We built our institution on the singing idea, so now have to go back to the writers who wrote in the operatic vein, Strauss, Herbert, Friml and Rodgers and Hammerstein."

"Student Prince," hadn't been done by the CLO since 1938 when Lester cast Stanley Morner in the lead role. That same singer later became better known as Dennis Morgan.

"Unquestionably vintage," he admits "but it has had enormous success in revival continuously over the years and always does big business."

"An audience may be critical of many things but the first song, 'Golden Days,' takes them by storm and they never recover because the rest of the music is just as good."

Kiwanis Club Launched

Smut Is Result Of Deep Roots

Samuel Chandler

THREE TIMES this week I have been asked to write something about pornography. Although I have expressed my dislike for the stuff in at least six of these columns, here I go again.

Everybody, it seems, wants to fight pornography, but few people are willing to recognize it as the result of something rotten in our culture.

Pornography is the child of a society that can be wooed by advertisements that concentrate on the pursuit of sex as though the chase were the only important thing in life—such ads, for example, as those that show dreamy-eyed women in garments designed for the bedroom with messages urging her to make him more of a man tonight by being more of a woman—or to be wickedly glamorous.

Pornography is hatched by a society that has gone crazy over nearly naked bodies. So much so that ugly garments such as bikinis and stretch pants have become common garb, and pictures of women in panties and bras have become as common as air.

WHAT CAN WE expect literature to be in an age that allows a discussion of free sex to occupy a political convention; that makes a best seller of something advertized as the astonishing diary of an unfaithful wife; that sees a public flocking to movies advertised as stories of hidden sins; that makes demigods out of thinkers who taught that the sex urge is the strongest drive in human beings?

It is time we realized that dirty books, smutty films and lewd pictures are mere blossoms of an evil weed whose roots lie deep. Let's do more than pick the blossoms by passing laws that will do little other than harass a few book sellers, theater owners and librarians.

IT IS ENCOURAGING to see that various religious denominations have adopted programs that point the right way. To cite an example, I refer to a program regarding motion pictures that was announced in a recent issue of the "Improvement Era." It has four parts:

1—to publish a motion picture review department in the magazine, 2—to make an annual award to the studio that has produced the best family picture of the year (to receive this year's award, stars and producers from "The Sound of Music" went to the campus of Brigham Young University), 3—to encourage church members to raise their voices in a demand for a return to decency in motion pictures, and 4—to give publicity to successful campaigns in communities that are fighting against this growing menace to society.

This and similar programs by other denominations are a step in the right direction—and without the evils of censorship.

Builders Will Hear Of Need for New Concepts

HARRY R. FARBER
Among the Leaders

Agent Hits Mark Again

Harry R. Farber of 105 Camelia Drive, Daly City, a representative on the staff of Metropolitan Life Insurance Company's Portola district in San Francisco, placed more than $1-million in personal life insurance last year to rank among the top 450 leaders of more than 30,000 Metropolitan field representatives in the United States and Canada.

It was the fourth time that his annual sales have passed the million mark, the company said.

Farber, has been invited to participate in a five-day business conference with company president Gilbert W. Fitzhugh and other officers at the San Jeronimo Hotel in San Juan, Puerto Rico, next week.

The need for radical changes in neighborhood patterns to relieve congestion pressures and accommodate changes in living modes will receive prime attention from more than 3,000 builders when they attend the eighth annual Pacific Coast Builders Conference to be held in San Francisco June 7 to 9.

The nation's second largest builders convention will feature several programs that relate to "new looks" for neighborhoods during the three days it is in session at the Fairmont Hotel, David Young, Pacific Coast Builders conference president said.

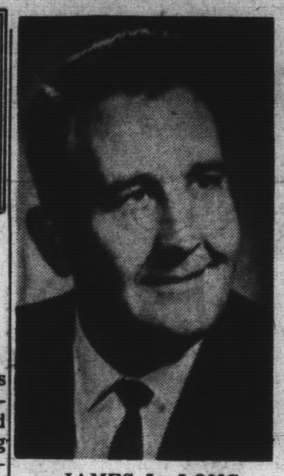
"The old gray neighborhood can't be what it used to be, to paraphrase the old song," he declared. "With population densities set to double in metropolitan areas in a decade, more than a shoehorn will be needed if social and health problems are to be avoided."

New ideas for better neighborhood designs will be discussed and illustrated at one of 14 educational programs on the three-day convention schedule. Panelists on the program will include Victor Palmieri, Janss Corporation, Los Angeles; Robert Royston, Royston, Hanamoto & Mays, San Francisco and Alfred Boeke, Oceanic Projects, Inc., Honolulu.

The panel discussion will be moderated by Proctor Melquist, editor of Sunset Magazine.

Federal and state assistance available to communities and the building industry in connection with the planning and development of new or revitalized neighborhoods will be described at other sessions, Young said.

Other topics on the conference agenda include industry legislation, sales methods, automation in construction, effective use of capital, design features of best selling homes and financing. Special programs have been scheduled for small volume builders.



JAMES L. LONG

Morris Plan Manager For D.C. Named

James L. Lowe has been named manager of Morris Plan's office at 40 Park Plaza Drive, Daly City in the Westlake Shopping Center, according to F. Hugh Dresslar, regional vice president.

Lowe, who has been manager of Morris Plan's office in West San Jose, joined its Vallejo office in 1954. He was elected an Assistant Secretary in 1963.

A native of Cedar View, Utah, he served in the U.S. Navy.

He and his wife, Wanda, are members of the Dudes and Dolls Square Dance Club, and Lowe is an Explorer Scouts Advisor.

The Lowes reside in Los Gatos. They have three cildren, Stephen 19, Linda, 17 and Dianne, 10.

B of A CONTEST

Awards Readied For Achievement

Bank of America today named five judges to select zone winners from area high school students in the bank's annual Achievement Awards competition in San Mateo tomorrow.

The decision of these judges will boost four of 37 hopefuls into area finals and an opportunity to compete for $1,000 cash awards next month in San Francisco.

Drawn from business, the professions and civic groups, the zone judges will conduct round table discussions with the candidates on topics of general interest and subjects sepcifically related to their fields of study.

From the interviews, scholastic records and extracurricular activities, the judges will choose the four most well rounded students to advance to the area finals.

Moderator of the group discussions will be Walter Jack, vice president of The San Mateo Times and a former superintendent of the San Mateo Schools.

Judges for the San Mateo competition are Ravi N. Bery, South San Francisco, owner of Bery Affilliates; Mrs. Celia Bronstein, South San Francisco, owner of Bronstein Music; Carl W. Anderson, Burlingame attorney; Anthony Tarlock, San Mateo, manager of the Walnut Control Board, and Les Kelley, Belmont general contractor.

First place zone winners are chosen in each of four study fields—fine arts, science and mathematics, vocational arts, and liberal arts.

The four winners at the zone event are assured of $150 minimum prizes at the area finals, and will compete for other prizes ranging to the four first place grants of $1,000.

Second and third place zone winners in each of the four fields receive $50 and $25 awards, respectively.

North County seniors participating in the zone contest are:

Sandra Campbell, Glen Ying and Nina Vernazza, Jefferson High School;

Gary Gregory and Edward Zapletal, El Camino School.

Sue Irby, R. Michael Shackelford and Bruce Herald, Westmoor High School;

Sharon Beltramo and Michael LaPorte, Crestmoor High School;

Karen Mora, Kenneth Barberian and Ronna Howard, Capuchino High School;

Ronald Taormina, South San Francisco High School;

Neena Nocita, Terra Nova High School;

And James Robison and Jennifer Schlotz, Oceana High School.

50 Carriers Are Rewarded For Efforts

Fifty San Mateo Times newspaperboys were judged the winners in a new subscription contest and awarded fun-filled trips for their efforts.

$11,840 Is Awarded To D.C. Estate

A Superior Court jury has awarded $3000 compensatory damages and $8840 exemplary damages to the estate of a Daly City man following a trial in which two Daly City real estate brokers were defendants.

The suit had been filed by Lorraine G. Heiser as executrix of the estate of the late Edmond L. Hein. It was alleged that the value of his home at 478 Irvington Street was falsely represented to Hein to have a value of only $11,000 when the true value was in excess of $20,000. Because of his inexperience in real estate matters and because he was ill, the suit alleged, Hein sold for the lower price. Mrs. Heiser asked $9000 compensatory and $50,000 exemplary damages.

The jury, which heard the case in the courtroom of Superior Judge Louis B. Dematteis, awarded $3000 actual damages against Charles Groper and Hugh B. Olsen and an additional $8840 compensatory damages against Groper.

CAR KEYS STOLEN

Officials of Gateway Chevrolet Company at 7400 Mission Street, Daly City, reported to police last week that 20 to 25 keys had been stolen from used cars on a company lot at East Market and Mission Streets.

TOOLS, PAINT TAKEN

Officials of the Thornton Paint Company at 396 Heathcliff Drive, Pacifica, reported to police last week that tools and paint supplies had been stolen from a panel truck, parked in front of 1339-A Komsthoeft Court in Daly City.

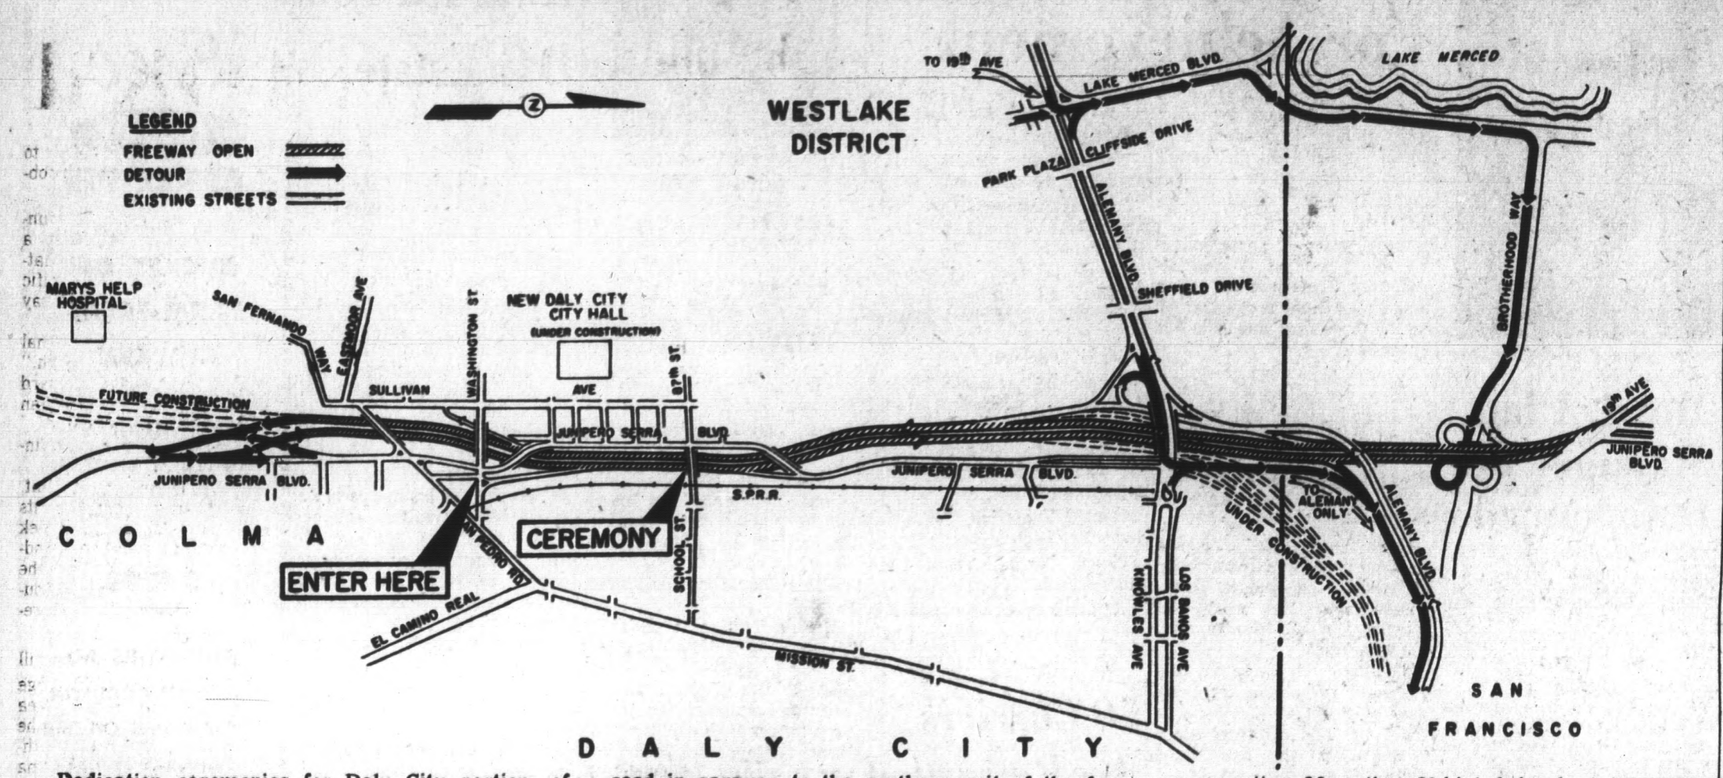
New Daly City Freeway (and Detours) Open Tomorrow



Dedication ceremonies for Daly City portion of Junipero Serra Freeway take place tomorrow at 11 a.m. Official cars will enter northbound on-ramp at Washington Street, proceed to ceremony site near School Street. After ribbon cutting, cars will proceed in caravan to the northern exit of the freeway. Map shows portion of freeway which will be opened, as well as detours which will be in effect while construction continues at either end of the new section. More than 30 high federal, state, county and local officials have been asked to attend ceremonies. Total cost of the 2.7 mile section will be almost $10 million.

Hunt Is On in School Districts

North County Seeks to Fill Teacher Jobs

By DON MILLER

It's hunting season again in North County school districts.

Armed with competitive salary schedules and material delineating the cosmopolitan and educational advantages of the Bay Area, school administrators are stalking prospective teachers to fill the gaps in district staffs.

Openings are caused by such factors as marriage, transfer of a mate to another area, sabbatical leaves, pregnancy and the lure of another district or a job outside teaching.

Before school opens in September, some 225 positions in five North County districts will have been filled.

The new teachers will have been hired after more than 6,500 inquiries had been received by the districts from every state in the Union. That works out to about 30 inquiries for every job opening.

BUT THE simple mathematics of supply and demand don't tell the story.

For basically, it's a story of each district trying to match up its needs with the teachers who are seeking a job.

And because of a change in the rules this year, that job for elementary districts will be more difficult than the 30 to 1 ratio would seem to indicate.

The change was effected by the California Legislature when it passed the Fisher Act, requiring applicants for elementary teaching positions to have five rather than four years of college.

Thus, many inquiries for elementary school job openings this year will get no further than the inquiry and first answer stage.

This is because of a large number of applicants from the East who could not be expected to know of the change in California's teaching credential requirements.

On the other hand, the Fisher Act is expected to increase the number of applicants received from the East for high school jobs.

The act decreases the number of education courses an applicant needs for a California high school credential. It also drops the requirement that a teacher be skilled in making and operating audio visual aids.

INTERVIEWING a prospective candidate for a teaching position is Dr. Vinton Stratton, assistant superintendent of the Jefferson Elementary School District. North County districts are expected to fill about 225 positions before school opens in September. And if past experience can be used as a guide, more than 6,500 inquiries about openings will be received from prospective teachers. (Post-Times Photo)

THE LARGE number of inquiries and subsequent applications for jobs in North County schools is attributed by district administrators to the California climate, the number of leading universityes and colleges in the Bay Area and the cosmopolitan reputation of its core city—San Francisco.

The meteorological factor—because of the North County's often cool and foggy weather—always makes personnel directors smile.

As one director remarked: "Whenever we interview an applicant on a beautiful day, we level with him. We tell him that the weahter isn't always like that."

Unlike private industry, which can compete for personnel by upping the salary ante, a school district is limited by the salary schedule adopted by its board of trustees.

By and large, the schedules in the North County are closely competitive for trustees realize that unless they keep their districts about on a par with neighboring areas, the district is apt to be running last in the teacher-hiring derby.

HOW, THEN, do districts compete?

In a variety of subtel ways, says Dr. Vinton Stratton, assistant superintendent of the Jefferson Elementary School District.

"The district competes right from the start in the way it replies to an applicant's letter. For example, we answer every inquiry and we also suggest to those people coming a long way that they might want to visit neighboring districts as well. And we give them a list."

Stratton adds that the reception an applicant receives when he appears for an interview is another way the district competes.

His district also invites prospects to visit schools and if time is available, to talk with principals and teachers.

THE PROCESS of hiring teachers is pretty much a standard procedure wth all school districts.

By law, in California, a district cannot hire a new teacher until after January 1 of each year. But before that date rolls around, the district may have been in contact with a number of prospects.

"It's like a baseball team scouting for players," Stratton notes.

In general the procedure works like this:

After receiving a letter of inquiry about openings, the districts will send an application blank and any other information specifically requested.

In the case of an out-of-state applicant, the candidate will be asked to check with California's State Board of Education on whether he qualifies for credentials.

If a job hopeful is qualified, returns his applicatigon blank and requests an interview, the district's hiring machinery jumps into a higher gear.

The applicant is requested to ask his college to send the district his confidential file—a compilation of the applicant's academic record, teaching experience, if any, letters of recommendation, additional courses the applicant has taken and special skills.

How far back into a candidate's background a district goes will vary with the district but it is the policy of most administrators to check on anything that raises a question—however small. As Stratton put it:

"Quality control in a district starts with the selectigon of your staff."

THE KEY STEP in the hiring process, administrators readily agree, is the interview.

"It gives you a chance to try and find out what applicants think of themselves, what they feel about children, andy prejudices they have, what their feelings of insecurity are and what they plan to do about them—mostly it's just getting a sort of feeling of the kind of person they are," Stratton explains in reviewing the way he conducts his interviews.

"And it's a two-way conversation. For they've got questions too."

Sometimes, because a candidate's background and references are strong and because the interview come out well, the applicant is offered a job on the spot. This is the exception rather than the rule.

The typical situation finds the district thanking the applicant and telling him he will be notified. The district uses the intervening time to do further checking, if this is deemed necessary or to wait and compare the candidate's qualifications with those of applicants yet to be interviewed.

Once a contract is offered, a candidate has 20 days in which to sign and return the document. After that period, the contract no longer is binding on the district.

THIS YEAR, teacher - hiring in the North County—and in the rest of the state—will be more competitive in the fields of girls' physical education, special education (teaching the mentally retarded, the blind, the hard-of-hearing etc.), library work and math and science than other fields and subjects.

For one district, however, teacher-hiring again will be a breeze.

The 26-teacher Bayshore Elementary School District in Daly City doesn't expect to have a vacancy this year, had only one last year because of illness and didn't have one the year before.

Nonetheless, the district, according to Superintendent Natalie Lipman, receives from 7 to 10 inquiries every day. It's a situation she describes as "fantastic."

Changes In State Code Affect Hiring

Students To Wash Cars On Sunday

The Jefferson High School chapter of the Junior Statesmen of America will have a car wash this Sunday at Charlie's Richfield Station, Geneva Avenue and Santos Street, across the street from the Cow Palace.

Junior Statesmen of America is a statewide organization in which students learn how the government functions by attending state conventions that are held twice a year.

Jefferson's JSA went to the last state conventions in Sacramento as observers; this year the chapter hopes to attend as participants the state convenion in Long Beach.

The car wash is being held to raise money to send delegates to this convention.

Meanwhile, the chapter is busy with preparations for the Golden Gate Regional convention that will be hosted by Cubberly High School in Palo Alto, April 23.

Though the Jefferson chapter is relatively new, some members have already participated in a voter registration drive, and the chapter has particpated in the last regional convention at Ygnacio Valley High School, at which Jerome Waldie, majority leader of the State Assembly, was the guest speaker.

Terra Nova Topics

By MARIA MONTENEGRO

TERRA NOVA students returned from their carefree Easter vacation only to face the always-dreaded quarter finals.

On the Friday previous to the start of vacation (which also happened to be April 1) and April Fool's edition of the TN Tiger Tales came out.

It was different from previous April Fool issues in that instead of purposely trying to be funny the Tiger Tales staff attempted (and succeeded) to be funny through "serious and academic means."

The ground rules for this issue were that every news story be written "straight" as usual. The errors were to be honest accidental mistakes. But the staff was entirely switched around, not one day was spent after school, not one typing error was corrected, and not one story was copy-read except for content, good taste, and factual errors.

The paper that resulted was, to say the least, one-of-a-kind.

The photographer, Dave Jackson became editor-in-chief, business manager Linda Dyar became photographer, feature reporter Mike Thompson (a one-finger typist) became head typist. Editor-in-chief Ray Baxter was demoted to typist. News editor Lou Ann Andre and art editor Cassandra Walsh (note that they are both girls) took over as sports editors.

Typists Pam Reagan and Cherie Swanson became art editor and assistant news editor. Reporters promoted to higher position were news editor Dave Friedman, business manager Gene Gibson, foreign correspondent Maria Montdenegro and managing editor Dave Stevens. Editors demoted to reporters were feature and assistant feature editors Andrea Drake and Kathi Grigg, managing editor Kim Davis, and assistant news editor Donna Hagenstein. Tami Houg remained a reporter while reporter Jerry Loos acted as journalism advisor.

According to TN journalism advisor Le Pacini the main reasons for this edition were that: "1") It would show people on the Tiger Tales staff that all is not so green on the other side of the other side of the fence. 2) It would show the student body what would happen if the right people weren't in the right positions, and if nobody cared enough about the paper to continually check and double-check it, and to put in voluntary extra hours. 3) It would give the journalism advisor a rest, and perhaps a few knowing chuckles."

Meanwhile the Tiger Tales staff has recovered from its journalistic April Fool's hangover and is preparing for the next "normal" edition.

Pacifica to Begin Annual Cleanup Week Saturday

Pacifica Clean Up Week is scheduled to start Saturday and continue through Sunday, April 24.

In order to help residents dispose of bulky trash, the Coastside Scavenger Company will park a truck at the Fairmont Fire Station Saturday from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

On the last day of clean-up week, two trucks will be available. One will be at the corporation yard office, 2200 Palmetto Drive, and one at Crespi Drive and Coast Highway, also from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

This service, according to Paul Rushing, deputy director of public works, is provided in co-operation with the City of Pacifica.

Other sponsors of Clean-up Week are the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce and the Pacifica Jaycees who are providing posters and other material to alert residents to the campaign.

All of Linda Mark Beach, according to Rushing, will be cleaned up by both Scouts and Cub Scouts of Pacifica on Saturday.

As part of the campaign, Rushing said that a controlled burning had been planned to raze two condemned buildings on the northwest corner of Clarendon and Palmetto Avenues in the Sharp Park District, until it was discovered that the land formerly was a gas station site.

Underground storage tanks will have to be checked, Rushing said, to make sure they are water filled or not hazardous, before the burning can take place.

RINGS, CASH TAKEN

Carlton Somdahl of 8 Grandview Avenue, Daly City, reported to police yesterday that two rings, valued at a total of $400, and $40 in cash had been stolen from his residence in the last nine months.

D.C. Youth Hit By Car

A 16-year-old Daly City youth suffered a back sprain when he was struck by a car about 7:30 Monday night at Mission Street and Hillside Boulevard in Daly City.

The youth, John Gomez of 101 Hillcrest Drive, was treated at Mary's Help Hospital.

Police identified the driver of the car as Elizabeth Ann David, 54, of 298 Vista Grande Avenue Daly City.

Libraries To Open Sunday

In celebration of National Library Week both the Sanchez and the Sharp Park Brances of the San Mateo County Libraries in Pacifica will be open from 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday. A story-hour for children will be held at the Sharp Park Library.

Students from both Terra Nova and Oceana High Schools participate in a youth review concert at 8 p.m. next Wednesday in the Community Room of the Sharp Park Library.

Cleanup Week Starts Saturday in Pacifica

Pacifica Clean-Up Week is scheduled to start Saturday, April 16 and continue through Sunday, April 23.

In order to help residents dispose of bulky trash, the Coastside Scavenger Company will provide a truck at the Fairmont Fire Station on April 16, between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. On the last day of clean-up week, Sunday, April 23, there will be two trucks for free disposal of trash. One will be at the corporation yard office, 2200 Palmetto, and one at Crespi Drive and Coast Highway during the same hours.

This service, according to Paul Rushing, deputy director of public works, is provided in co-operation with the City of Pacifica. Other sponsors of clean-up week are the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce and the Pacifica Jaycees who are providing posters, buttons, and other material to alert residents to the clean-up campaign.

All of Linda Mar Beach, according to Rushing, will be cleaned up by both Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts of Pacifica on Saturday, April 16.

As part of the campaign, Rushing said that a controlled burning had been planned for two condemned buildings on the northwest corner of Clarendon and Palmetto Avenues in the Sharp Park District. This unsightly structure was to be used as part of a fire practice, until it was discovered it is a former gas station site.

Underground storage tanks will have to be checked, Rushing stated, to make sure they are water-filled or not hazardous, before the burning can take place.

HOME BURGLARIZED

Lourdes Del Rosario, 643 Skyline Drive, Daly City, told police last week a large diamond ring, other jewelry and liquor were stolen by someone who forced a rear window of his home.

Pacifica To State Policy On Freeways

Two resolutions will be up for approval by Pacifica city councilmen at tomorrow night's meeting. One is a request for a new pedestrian overpass in the Sharp Park District, and the other asks the California Highway Commission for early construction of the section of Cabrillo Freeway between Junipero Serra Freeway and Skyline Boulevard.

The former resolution to the Division of Highways states that the "center of the population west of the freeway is exactly opposite the shopping area" on the east side of the freeway. No crossing exists here. The two present crossings are "now at ther peripheries of the population areas." The present location of the overcrossing at Paloma Avenue and the underpass at Clarenden add, according to the resolution, "one-half mile to the walking distance from the population center on the west side to the shopping center on the east side."

Among other reasons given in the resolution for a new overpass are: the use by 350 pedestrians a day, and 100 units of senior citizen housing being planned for the west side.

The resolution concludes that the city of Pacifica "recognizes it responsibility for not having an overcrossing at San Jose Avenue in its original plans" and volunteers to pay 50 per cent of construction costs.

In other business, the council will be faced with a $100,850 damage claim from James Edward Johnson of 46 West Park Drive, Daly City. Johnson, who is a real estate broker states that he was arrested by two Pacifica policemen on February 17 for writing a forged check. This was later shown to be a case of mistaken identity and the charges against Johnson were dismissed on February 28. He cites negligence on the part of police officers Averitt and Tebaldi and writes that he "now has a criminal record with the F.B.I. and has suffered great humiliation and damage to his reputation."

Notice Is Coming On Summer School

Many a mother has discovered an announcement from her child's school in the pocket of a jacket ready for the washing machine.

The process will be repeated in the next few days in the San Bruno Park School District.

The district this week will send home with children an announcement of its summer school program, which is scheduled from June 27 to July 29.

The deadline for registration is April 27.

Parents who wish to enroll their third through eighth grade children in summer sessions should first consult the child's teacher, according to F. H. Jackson, assistant superintendent.

The consultation will result in a decision to enroll the pupil in either a fundamental or enrichment curriculum, depending on individual needs.

Teachers will then make recommendations for pupils to be accepted.

Jackson stressed that teachers will be asked to exclude children who failed to fulfill summer school obligations last summer. Students, he said, are dropped after three unexcused absences during the five-week session.

The fundamental program will include reading, arithmetic, language, science and or art. The enrichment curriculum is divided by grades.

Third and fourth graders will study art, science, individualized reading and music. Fifth grade students will have the same classes, with creative writing substituted for music. Grades 6-8 will study science, art, basic physical geography and possibly world affairs.

During the session, Jackson said, there will be no bus transportation, and no cafeteria service.

Classes will be held at Crestmoor, Engvall and Belle Air Schools.

All San Bruno Park District schools have the summer school registration forms, Jackson said, including parochial schools.

Students should be given the slips by the end of this week.

Mothers are hereby advised to check all pockets.

If you don't see what you want just ask for it.

Judge Will Mull Lynch Case Ruling

Alfred R. Lynch's petition for reinstatement of his county teacher's certificate has been taken under submission by Superior Court Judge W. Howard Hartley.

Judge Hartley asked the opposing counsel, Deputy District Attorney John B. Segall and Lynch's attorney, Clarence Knight, to submit briefs during the next 75 days, after which he will decide whether Lynch may teach again in San Mateo County public schools.

The certificate was revoked by the County Board of Education on a number of grounds, including unprofessional conduct.

The charges against Lynch grew out of his public crusade against what he called an "anti-Christian" attitude on the part of the faculty and administration of the Laguna Salada School District.

TV TAKEN

James P. Wurm, 150 Coronado Drive, Daly City, reported that someone broke into his apartment last week and—holy catastrophe — stole the television set.

THEFT REPORTED

John Crass of 1319-A Komsthoeft Court, Daly City, reported to police last week that a number of items had been stolen from his car, parked in front of his residence.

MOVIE CAMERA STOLEN

George McCortney of 449 San Diego Avenue, Daly City, reported to police yesterday that a movie camera had been stolen from his residence.

Fair Housing Meet Asked With Builder

ACTION, A Committee to Integrate Our Neighborhoods, whose members are residents of Millbrae, San Bruno and South San Francisco, a Daly representatives of other fair City fair housing council and housing units in northern San Mateo County have requested a meeting with Standard Builders of San Francisco.

The request has been made, ACTION says, so that Standard Builders can clarify and define its sales policies specifically in the Serramonte development of Daly City.

Inasmuch as this area will encompass approximately 20,000 homes and will therefore have a wide sphere of influence, these fair housing groups feel that a clarification of the builders' integration policies is necessary at this time, ACTION Chairman Albert Waters states.

"Several north San Mateo County fair housing groups, whose prime purpose is to assure and promote non-discriminatory housing in northern San Mateo County, are concerned about the sales policies in large housing developments," he notes.

"Since Serramonte constitutes one of the largest developments in the area and, therefore, represents an example for future suburban communities, we would like an opportunity to discuss Standard Builders' integration policies."

Coins, Cash Are Stolen

Burlingame resident William Giles told police $150 worth of coins and cash was stolen from his home at 324 Alcazar Road, last week while he was away camping with his son.

Giles said he had dumped his small change in a one-pound coffee can, and his currency into a paper box, before departing.

The thief had also taken three silver dollars from his daughter's dresser, he said, but had ignored other valuables.

Bruno Flood District OK'd

San Bruno City Councilmen last night approved the boundaries of a San Bruno Creek portions of San Francisco-owned land near the airport.

The plan now goes to the County Board of Supervisors for approval and public hearings before a district is created to battle the area's drainage problems.

Generally, the district boundaries outline the city, but a portion of San Francisco's flatlands between Southern Pacific railroad and Byshore Freeway has been included.

"This is part of our normal and natural drainage basin," explained City Manager Gerard Vergeer, and I know San Francisco will agree to that.

"They suffer from our drainage probiems, too."

City officials pointed out that, before the airport grew to its present size, San Bruno creek floodwaters had a natural ponding area and drainage into the Bay, but that this has gradually been dammed off by shoreline development.

The flood control district will attempt to solve storm drainage problems for the entire area from Skylnie eastward to the Bay, and from Millbrae northward to the edges of the Colma Creek drainage district in South San Francisco.

In a pre-election meeting that was otherwise calm and quiet, the council approved a Fox Theater sign for Pacific Heights Shopping Center, deferred an employe request for payroll deduction of union dues until May budget sessions, approved seeking bids on new police cars, and accepted bids on a recreation department vehicle.

Mayor Neil Christal, noting the new feeling of brotherhood being developed between San Bruno and San Francisco International Airport, proclaimed May 15 to 21, as Aviation Appreciation Week.

Officer Nips Bruno Drug Store Holdup

"I'm going in," radioed San Bruno Police Officer Edward Thune, and he moved in on two men in the course of robbing the Mills Park Pharmacy at 701 Kains Avenue in San Bruno.

Minutes later, Edward Lang, 25, and Roger Goldenthal, 21, both of San Francisco, were under arrest and an armed robbery had been nipped.

"It was terrific of the police department," said Simon Paper, the man who was almost robbed.

Sought Narcotics

Paper and drug salesman Jack Cuneo were alone in the store when a man walked in with a stocking over his head.

"I knew right then it was a holdup, but there was nothing you could do about it.

"He asked for narcotics. I had a cigar box full that I keep in the safe, and I gave him these, hoping he'd run out, but then he made us lie on the floor and the other man came in and tried to rifle the till.

"Then a police officer came and arrested them, and it was all over. We weren't on the floor a minute."

Lang and Goldenthal were to be arraigned today in Northern Judicial District Court on felony charges of armed robbery. No bail was set.

Police said the two men could have been dangerous if prompt and firm action had not balked their plans.

On Three-Wheeler

Officer Thune had been riding a three-wheeler on parking control duty at 10 a.m. when he saw one man enter the little drug store with what appeared to be a nylon stocking draped over his neck as a scarf.

As Thune stopped his motorcycle, a woman rushed up and told him there was another man inside the store, with a nylon stocking pulled over his face.

Thune radioed to headquarters, only two blocks away, that a possible armed robbery was in progress.

Then he moved in.

Meek

The man he had just seen entering the store was rifling the cash register, and surrendered meekly to Thune's gun.

As he handcuffed the prisoner and moved him outside, Thune asked:

"Are you alone?"

"No."

"Where's the other man?"

"In the back room with the clerks."

Second Arrest

Then they stepped onto the sidewalk and were met by Detective Fred Freitas and Officer Ray O'Driscoll. Turning the prisoner over to Freitas, Thune moved back inside, accompanied by O'Driscoll.

In the back room they found a second holdup man, a short black .22 pistol with ivory grips and a package of narcotics taken from the store's shelves.

That man was handcuffed too, and hustled outside.

Daly City Youth Hurt

A 16-year-old Daly City youth suffered a back sprain when he was struck by a car about 7:30 last night at Mission Street and Hillside Boulevard in Daly City.

The youth, John Gomez of 101 Hillcrest Drive, was treated at Mary's Help Hospital.

Police identified the driver of the car as Elizabeth Ann David, 54, of 298 Vista Grande Avenue, Daly City. She told police she had just completed making a turn when she felt a thump against the side of her car.

Daly City Man Gunshot Victim

Steven Hurlbut of 78 Longview Drive in Daly City, apparently shot himself with a .22-caliber rifle in the leg Sunday while sitting in his car on the coast Highway in Pacifica.

He was treated at Mary's Help and released.

WINDOW BROKEN

Frank Ridge of 2 Larkspur Avenue, Daly City, reported to police yesterday that vandals had broken a window in his living room.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

Regular Dental Care.

Reduction of the consumption of sugar, proper toothbrushing can do much to reduce the prevalence of dental decay in children. All dental decay, however, cannot be prevented. There is no substitute for regular visits to the dentist.

Your children should pay their first visit to the dentist between two and one half and three years of age, shortly after all their primary teeth have erupted.

There are a number of advantages in early and frequent visits to the dentist:

(1) tooth defects and dental disease can be defected and corrected in their early stages
(2) the dentist can observe and correct irregularities in the growth of teeth
(3) pain can be prevented
(4) the cost of care can be reduced.

Dr. Campbell limits his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for some; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as even the beautiful modern dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

D.C. Women Perform For Handicapped

Six Daly City women are members of an amateur theatre group that performs before handicapped children at schools and institutions in the Bay Area.

The group, known as the Council Amateur Theatre Service, is a community welfare project of the San Francisco Section, National Council of Jewish Women.

The service has been in operation for the past five years. The Daly City women are:

Mrs. Reuben E. Gilbert, chairman; Mrs. Albert Meister, choreographer and ballerina; Mrs. Louis Goodstein, Mrs. Samuel Greiff, Mrs. Max Berenstein and Mrs. Sam Cohen.

Members of the group produce and enact plays, make costumes, scenery and props and travel to schools once a week to present the plays.

Admission is charged only at two annual public performances, held at Giannini Junior High School in San Francisco. Moneys received from these performances are used to defray production and traveling costs.

Westmoor Hi Juniors See CSM Play

Jazz, played by the College of San Mateo Notettes clad in sun glasess and berets, filled the air as applauding Westmoor High Juniors saw the curtain fall on "A Thurber Carnival" at CSM recently. Accompanied by Miss Judy Nelson, English teacher, the students watched as the CSM players presented 14 sketches written by James Thurber, famous for his subtle and adult humor.

One particularly humorous sketch was "The Night the Bed Fell." In this story, the father of a completely neurotic family decides to sleep in an old rickety bed in the attic. The ridiculous habits of the members of the family make the story hilarious and can be compared to many of the riduculous habits of real persons.

The story, "The Last Flower" has quite a deep meaning. It involves a world war that destroys everything; the people become animals, but one flower remains and saves civilization.

Several other sketches were cleferly presented andi n between the stories, cartoons by Thurber were projected on the walls of the CSM theater. During and between performances, the CSM Notettes entertained the audience with jazz.

Girls Play In Terra Nova Sports Day

Westmoor High's Girls' Athletic Association has been invited to attend an All League—All Sports Day at Terra Nova High this Saturday.

All GAA's in the North Peninsula League and Half Moon Bay are included.

The contest, lasting from 8:30 a.m. to 2:45 p.m., will be officialed by students from San Jose State, San Francisco State, and College of San Mateo.

Awards will be presented and brunch and lunch served. The cost per event entered is 25 cents. This covers the expense of brunch, lunch, bowling, trophies, and ribbons.

Each entrant must be an active member in a GAA and the maximum is three activities per person.

Sports included in the contest are archery, badminton, balance beam, basketball, bowling, softball, trampoline, and volleyball.

Everybody's Got To Be Someplace
WOODLAKE
Is more than just someplace. It's a world apart. Why Woodlake? Ask a hundred people, you'll get a hundred good answers. Swimming, tennis, billiards, the gymnasium, the natural beauty, we could go on and on, but Woodlake just has to be seen. On April 15, one-hundred ninety studio, one, and two bedroom apartments all with carpets, draperies and parking facilities will open. Rentals start as low as $149.50. There is no better place than Woodlake.

MRS. FRANK MURPHY, up to her neck in plans for the Spring Festival at Holy Angels Church, took time out from her busy duties this past weekend for a sojourn to Healdsburg. As a result of her trek, she is now singing the praises for the temporary novitiate being opened there by the Sisters of the Holy Infant Jesus.

The local festival, being planned for May 7, will combine carnival-type entertainment with a folk dance exhibition, all staged to help raise funds to aid the sisters in paying for the maintenance of the Healdsburg facility as well as assisting them with the mortgage on a lovely piece of property in Marin County where they hope to build a permanent and much larger novitiate.

No reservations are required for the May program and the public is invited. Still needed are volunteers who will help with booths or who wish to donate items or money to the benefit. Interested? Please contact Mrs. Murphy at 992-3718.

Incidentally, Mrs. Murphy is also eager that the community be advised that it is no longer necessary for girls wishing to enter the Holy Infant Jesus Order to travel to Ireland for training. The Healdsburg novitiate is open and ready to interview applicants who may contact Sister Superior, 123 Fitch Street in Healdsburg.

Among those members of her family gathered for the festive Easter buffet were Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Reams and son Michael, Mrs. Glee Glantz, Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Heller, and children Debbie, Linda, Nancy and Jonathan.

ARTHUR ROBERTS was to be the guest speaker at the Art Guild of Pacifica meeting Monday night.

Roberts, who has exhibited his commercial design work at the State Fair, the San Mateo County Fair, DeYoung Museum Palace of the Legion of Honor and at the Crocker Museum in Sacramento, spoke on "Package and Commercial Design."

Mrs. Roberta Ewald and Mrs. Doris Fletcher were to be hostesses for the evening.

THE PACIFICA Branch of the American Fuchsia Society will hold its monthly meeting Friday at 8 p.m. in Sharp Park School.

According to Mrs. Olive Prentice, corresponding secretary, the guest speaker for the evening will be Robert Castro of the Fuchsia Forest. Castro will discuss fertilizing and the general culture of fuchsias.

Mrs. Prentice reiterates that the public is always welcome at the Fuchsia Society meetings and no advance reservations are needed.

MRS. ANITA MARTINEZ, Mrs. Carmen Dominquez, Mrs. Margaret Cruz and Mrs. Bette Garcia, members of the Latin Women of America, report that it is still not too late to make reservations for a spring tea to be held in the Fern Room of the Merchandise Mart Tuesday.

Honored guest at the gala will be Mrs. Edmund Brown. For information, call 334-6894.

THE DATE FOR the seminar, "Civil Disobedience," previously set for April 13, has been changed to April 26 at 8 p.m.

According to John Keast, publicity chairman, the location has also been changed from the Temple Baptist Church to the television studios of KPIX at Van Ness Avenue and Greenwich Streets in San Francisco.

A limited number of tickets for audience—discussion participants are available to persons calling 564-8833.

THE NU SIGMA Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will hold a dinner-dance, "Swing into Spring," at the Broadmoor Hall on April 23 for members and their guests, according to news from Rita Chase.

Mrs. Esther Kiel is in charge of the evening, which will begin when dinner is served at 7 p.m. Members planning to attend are to call for tickets prior to next Thursday.

SATURDAY, the Friends of the Library will turn the center of the Westlake Mall into the area's largest outdoor book store when they stage their second annual Book Fair to raise money for a collection of modern and standard classics that the service group will donate to the Daly City Library.

According to Mrs. Hal Fox, publicity chairman, the fair committee, headed by Mrs. Lincoln Walters, has collected a vast number of all types of books that will be sold for as little as 10 cents each.

It is still not too late to donate books. The committee will continue to pick up contributions from the boxes in the local fire houses until 10 a.m. Saturday. Several hundred dollars are needed if the "Friends" are to have the money for the special large print collection they hope to buy. So plan to donate all the books you are able to and then drop by the fair between 9:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. Saturday and replenish those empty book shelves.

BUGS THE CLOWN will be on hand to entertain young and old alike during the Bit of Erin Spring Festival being held April 28, 29, 30 and May 1 in the Parish Hall of the Our Lady of Mercy Church, according to Mrs. Kathryn Glebow, publicity chairman.

Ed Cuevas is in charge of decorating the hall to suggest the "ole sod," and Mrs. Virginia Poblitz and Ben Albrecht are the floor chairmen. Philip Fraher is general chairman.

New this year will be a paint machine booth where festival-goers may create their own abstract masterpieces in oils. Mrs. Florence Pardini and Mrs. Barbara Aherne will be the co-chairmen of the booth, which should do a land-office business.

THE ANNUAL Spring Social of the Holy Angels Women's Guild will be held in the Parish hall April 23 from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m., according to Mrs. Marty Sugrue, who also notes that the evening will be enlivened by the music of the cymbals.

Reservations for the evening, which will include a midnight buffet supper, may be obtained by contacting Mrs. James McLoughlin, co-chairman of the social, at WY 2-4648. Assisting with plans for the evening is Mrs. William McCarthy, co-chairman with Mrs. McLoughlin.

Voters to Decide Harbor District's Fate in June

Dissolution of the San Mateo County Harbor District was ordered Thursday by the County Board of Supervisors, subject to confirmation by the voters in the June 7 primary election.

The action was taken following a two-hour hearing in Redwood City in which most of the burden of the opposing sides was borne by Max Rolih, an assistant to County Manager E. R. Stallings and James M. Dennis, attorney for the harbor district.

Rolih read a statement contending that the county should take jurisdiction over Pillar Point Harbor because the county government would be better able to handle the over-all planning that would be needed to develop the harbor to its highest and best use.

Dennis said the proposed transfer would not save taxpayers money and would not result in a streamlined operation of the harbor.

He suggested that, if there is unhappiness with the service of the district commissioners, three of them can be voted out of office in November.

Stallings insisted that no criticism of the board was intended The issue, he asid, is which agecny, the district or the county, could do the best job in developing the harbor in the future.

In considering their action, members of the board indicated that they would not take a stand on whether or not the district shoud be dissolved, but would be merely placing the matter on the ballot for the voters to decide.

Chief Deputy District Attorney James Parmelee informed them, however, that they would have to order the dissoluion and then submit the issue to the electorate in the form of a referendum.

"Pillar Point Harbor may be regarded as a vital key to the economic development of the coastside in that it provides a resource of enormous potential," Rolih told the board.

"In order that the resources can be developed to its highest and best utilization, the area requires co-ordination of over-all planning effort under a body generally responsible and responisve to the citizenry for the total effort involved."

Rolih, responding to a query from the Local Agency Formation Commission as to how the harbor would be administered if the county took over, proposed that a committee for harbor and planning development be created.

The county manager would be chairman and other members would inlcude the planning director, county engineer, director of parks and recreation, and director of building construction and general services.

A harbor manager would be appointed, to serve as a staff assistant to the county manager. Present district employes would be taken into the county Parks and Recreation Commission.

"To develop the potential of the citzenry for the total effort be taken into the county parks the order of $10 million or more," Rolih said.

Testimonial Dinner Set For Noonan

A county-wide testimonial dinner to honor Thomas F. Noonan, candidate for county assessor, will be given at the San Mateo Elks Club, in San Mateo, at 7 p.m. Thursday, April 28.

Some 600 public and administrative leaders have been invited.

Tickets, at $25 per plate, may be reserved at the newly-opened Noonan-for-Assessor San Bruno headquarters at 1789 El Camino Real, San Bruno, or by phoning 583-1491 or 347-0912.

Jean Langhi of South San Francisco is arrangements chairman. There will be special entertainment.

Two masters of ceremonies—one representing the North County, the other the South County — will co-emcee the event.

Ford

The quiet-riding Ford is a roaring success. After driving a '66 XL or LTD by Ford, owners of such luxury cars as a hand-crafted Jaguar and a $14,000 Mercedes said that Ford was even quieter than their custom-built cars. ▪ And Ford offers much more: Stereo tape player option for the music of your choice. ▪ Optional automatic speed control for foot-free cruising. ▪ Exclusive Magic Doorgate on station wagons swings out like a door for people . . . and down like a tailgate for cargo. ▪ Optional Ford SelectAire Conditioner is built in, not hung on. ▪ Safety/Convenience Control Panel option has lights to warn you if fuel's low or door's ajar. See your Ford Dealer and take a '66 on the Q.T.—Quiet Test a Ford today.

RICHARD MAYS

D.C. Captain Attends Fire Control Meet

Turlock was the site of a recent three-day Oil Fire Control School. Over 700 firemen and oil company personnel attended, making it one of the largest such schools ever held.

Among the participants was Captain Richard May, training officer for the Daly City Fire Department.

Co-operative agencies conducting the school were the Western Oil and Gas Association, Sharpe Army Depot, California State Department of Education Fire Training Program, and the Stanislaus County Fire Chief's Association.

Two days and nights of classroom work preceded a full day of actual firefighting, during which each one in attendance received practical experience in controlling and extinguishing actual large scale fires.

These fires involved loading platforms in gasoline bulk plants, overhead 3-dimensional flange fires, flowing gutter fires and liquefied petroleum fires where major leaks were involved.

Specialists from the major oil companies and the fire service served as instructors in both the fire problems and the classroom sessions.

This school is given on a statewide basis every five years, and this year attracted men from Kuwait and Honolulu as well as several Eastern states.

By special invitation there were also 70 Mexican firemen "Bomberos" in attendance as guests of the California Fire Service.

His Job Is Waiting, Just In Case...

South San Francisco last week advertised for several employe vacancies, among them the job of assistant building inspector.

Roy Ghilardi, who has held that job, was on leave of absence while he campaigned for election to the city council.

If elected, he was to resign the building job. If he lost, he planned to return to work.

And, said Administrative Assistant James Sargen, the job would be there waiting, just in case.

The city advertised the position, Sargen said, because of the possibility of Ghilardi's resignation.

In addition, Gildo Rozzi, chief building inspector, has requested an additional assistant position be authorized in the forthcoming fiscal year 1966-67 budget.

"Since we are conducting examinations for so many other positions," Sargen said, "we felt it would be advisable to hold this one at the same time."

Miss Pacifica Contestants Will Dance

Whoever wins the title of Miss Pacifica May 21, there is a 50-50 chance she will dance her way to the crown.

Five of the 10 contestants are planning talent incorporating modern dance routines.

Those who have indicated their terpsichorean plans are Candy Troy, Evette Pruderer, Antoinette Marie Kavvadias, Jaqueline Cole and Betty Myers. Miss Myers will also sing.

A second songstress is Lisa Raczkowski, who plans to sing as she presents an art show of her own paintings.

Linda Leslie is preparing an outfit of her own design, which she will model for the judges, to show off the several integrated garments.

Ann Eggen plans to play it for laughs—she's working on a comic monologue.

One of the most unusual talents will be demonstrated by Gayle Zaft, who will present a gymnastic act with a balance bar.

The tenth contestant is Cathy Henkel, whose act will probably appeal most to her fellow contenders: she will present a skit about a beauty contestant trying to decide what to do for a talent routine.

Young Thief Is Caught At Crime Scene

A young purse-snatcher sauntered back to the scene of his crime in Daly City last week, was spotted by his victim and apprehended by police after a short chase.

The youth, a 16-year-old San Francisco boy, was taken to the Youth Guidance Center in San Francisco.

The victim of the purse snatch, Frances McClanahan, 49, of San Francisco, flagged down Patrolman Tom Reese shortly after the youth had grabbed her purse while she was walking near Bepler Street and Mission Circle.

The youth had sped away in an auto, she told Reese.

While she was talking to the patrolman, she spotted the youth nearby. Reese gave chase. Two blocks away, the suspect was seized by an off-duty San Francisco police officer, Bob Stone, who turned the youth over to Reese.

Sgt. Henry Sundermann, who participated in the arrest with Reese and Patrolman Arthur Linhares, said later that the car the youth had been driving had been reported stolen.

He said the boy abandoned the car in a nearby supermarket parking lot and threw away the purse on Vendome Street.

While he was fleeing, he discarded $19 that had been in the purse. The money was found by youngsters and turned over to Daly City police.

Chamber To Honor Preps At Dinner

The Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce will hold its Outstanding Students Awards dinner on April 21 at 7 p.m. at Joe's of Westlake.

Eight students from Westmoor and Jeferson High Schools will be honored for their academic and extra-curricular activities during the school year.

Westmoor students include:

Robert Brodie of 43 Santa Elena Avenue, Daly City.

R. Michael Shackelford of 205 Village Lane, Colma.

Sue C. Irby of 936 Wildwood Avenue, Colma.

Bruce Herald of 98 Northgate Avenue, Daly City

Jefferson students include:

Sandra L. Campbell of 123 Winchester Street, Daly City.

Glenn Ying Gee of 400 Acacia Street, Daly City.

Alan V. McAllister of 438 Woodrow Street, Daly City.

Nina M. Vernazza of 457 East Market Street, Daly City.

D.C. Woman Is Victim of Theft

Daly City police are seeking a young strong-arm artist who stole the purse of Jean Kneebel, 57, as she walked near her home at 177 Bepler Street last Thursday night.

She told officers the youth, between 17 and 19, Negro, wearing a light jacket and light grey pants, grabbed the purse at the corner of Bepler and Rhine Streets.

The loss, in addition to the brown leather purse, includes miscellaneous papers, identification, and about $80 cash, she said.

S.S.F.. Construction Tops $2.5 in First 3 Months

Building permits were issued in South San Francisco during the first quarter of 1966 for construction totaling more than two-and-one-half million dollars.

The largest single job, in terms of dollar value, will be the construction of the new All Souls Roman Catholic Church at Grand and Walnut Avenues. The building's cost is estimated at $654,000.

The new structure will replace one which burned. Already under construction on the same site are a new convent and rectory, for which permits were issued earlier.

The breakdown of the $2.51 million dollars worth of permits issued in the last three months shows 176 separate projects.

Thirty-one permits were issued for single dwelling construction valued at $[illegible]450. Residential alterations, additions and repairs accounted for another 70 permits worth [illegible]160,000.

Only one permit was granted for multiple-dwelling construction during the last quarter, at a value of $37,900.

Commercial permits, including the All Souls construction, came to $1,294,500. One industrial permit listed a value of $67,000.

The 1966 first-quarter figure —$2,510,955—was nearly a million dollars less than construction for the same period a year ago. The difference is found largely in the number of new residential units begun.

In 1966, only 31 new homes were started. A year ago the number was 52. Also considerably lower this year was the value of industrial construction.

Mae Haaland To Be Feted By Chamber

Directors of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce will honor a longtime chamber aide at their April luncheon meeting, at noon, tomorrow in Val's Redwood Room Restaurant in Daly City.

Mrs. Mae Haaland has served the chamber in her capacity as secretary to Peter Markovich, chamber manager. She has been Markovich's secretary for 13½ years.

She has announced she will retire May 1 and return to live with a sister in her native Chicago.

Wives of chamber directors also have been invited to attend the luncheon Thursday.

Markovich alluded to Mrs. Haaland's long service at the directors' last luncheon when he observed: "She's always been willing to do a little something extra for us."

954,000 In County Predicted

There will be even more people and jobs in San Mateo County in 1990 than was predicted five years ago, a Stanford Research Institute economist told the West Bay Rapid Transit District directors last week.

Dr. Robert K. Arnold told the board that, whereas an SRI study made in 1961 for the city-county highway plan predicted 288,000 jobs for 1990, the present projection is for 314,500 jobs.

And the predicted 1990 population of 903,000 has been revised upward to 954,000.

Arnold told the board that a number of such revisions in the 1961 economic report must be made but asserted that the basic conclusions made then are still valid today. Updating the report, he said, will be a relatively simple matter and the existence of the earlier report will save a lot of time and money in the current transit study.

SRI is a subcontractor working for a consulting team that is preparing a master transit plan for San Mateo County, to be submitted to the voters in 1968.

Arnold said it now appears that there will be fewer jobs in manufacturing and more in services—such as in finance, insurance and real estate, business and medical services, and government—than was previously foreseen. Among the changed circumstances:

—A portion of Mariner's Island in San Mateo, which in 1961 was zoned for industrial use, has been rezoned for commercial use.

—In 1961 the area west of San Mateo surrounding the junction of Nineteenth Avenue and Junipero Serra Freeways was considered a prime target for industrial development and 3,000 jobs were predicted for that spot. Now, however, Arnold said, there appears to be no basis for such a prediction.

—The moratorium on bay fill has placed about 7,000 jobs predicted for reclaimed sites in question.

D.C. Demos To Hear Candidates

A number of candidates for county-wide offices and for North County unified school trustee have been invited to present their views at two programs planned by the Daly City-Colma Democratic Club.

The programs will be held at 8 p.m. next Wednesday and May 18 in the multi-use room of Garden Village School at 208 Garden Lane, Colma.

Candidates' Night Gets Fresh View

A new approach to candidates' nights was inaugurated by the Pacifica Republican Assembly last week at the Terra Nova High School Theater.

Although the original planning, according to Chairman Emory Lebonville, was for candidates to interview each other, the event was changed to a panel interview since it was more acceptable to the candidates.

Questions were asked on basic issues, and Lebonville said that he felt the approach was more informaitve to the audience than the usual personality clashes or repetitions of statements.

The interviewing panel consisted of: Virginia Jaeger, a staff reporter for the Coastside Chronicle; Mike Haggerty; Harry Moseley; George Edsell, and Al Haven.

Reporters from the Pacifica Tribune and Post-Times, who had been invited on the panel, were unable to attend due to previous commitments.

RING STOLEN

Lourdes Del Rosario of 643 Skyline Drive, Daly City, reported to police last week that thieves had taken a large diamond ring, miscellaneous jewelry and liquor from his residence.

Fair Admission Price For Children Cut to 25 Cents

An admission price schedule for the 32nd annual San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta, August 5 through 13, has been approved by the Fair Board of Directors.

Children under 12 will be admitted for 25 cents. Last year's admission price for youngsters was 50 cents.

In announcing the decrease, board members noted that the fair tells the story of the county and its activities and resources and urged that all youngsters be encouraged to attend to learn more about their community.

More than 23,000 children attended last year's Fiesta.

Monday and Tuesday will continue to be special "Kids' Days." Children under 12 will be admitted free until 4 p.m. Youngsters small enough to walk under turnstiles will be admitted free if accompanied by parents.

Admission for adults remains at $1.50. Students (teen-agers) showing a student body card will be admitted for 50 cents.

The directors also announced the continuation of the Group Appreciation Plan (GAP), inaugurated last year to encourage clubs, youth groups, senior citizens and other organizations to attend the fair.

Under the GAP, groups that make arrangements ahead of time are admitted at $1, fifty cents off the regular adult admission price.

S.S.F. Youth Knifed In School Lot

A knife flashed suddenly through the darkness of Capuchino High School's parking lot at 1:30 a.m. last Tuesday, and sent one South San Francisco youngster to the hospital and two others to jail.

Dale M. Baldisseri, 17, 261 Dundee Avenue, South San Francisco, was listed in "fair" condition at Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City following an emergency operation.

He was first treated at Kaiser Foundation Emergency Hospital in South San Francisco, where his friends took him after a midnight fight.

The two youths who are jailed are juveniles, and were being held at Hillcrest Juvenile Hall.

Police Detective Fred Freitas says he couldn't tell which of them is responsible for the stabbing, but knows they were involved in the fight that led to it.

Freitas said the ruckus started at a local all-night cafe, where Baldisseri and three of his friends went to eat just after midnight.

They met two carloads of acquaintances from South San Francisco, said Freitas, and apparently some bad blood boiled between them from previous meetings.

Angry words were exchanged, witnesses said, and the two groups retired from the scene to settle their differences in the darkness of the Capuchino parking area.

Knowing they would probably not be molested by passersby, the Baldisseri boy and a friend squared off against two brothers, Freitas indicated.

The reminaing six to eight youths were spectators.

Sometime during the fight, Baldisseri was wounded, and the larger group fled, leaving the boy's friends to rush him to the hospital.

Doctors phoned police.

It Was The Blues for a Blued Cat

Mrs. Ida Lovingood of South San Francisco was astonished when her pet cat walked into her living room.

It was blue.

She called the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to animals, in near-panic, then Animal Hospital for beauty treatment and-or paint removal.

She felt certain the painters who were working next door to her home at 326 Armour Avenue had painted her cat deliberately.

She called police, and accused the painter of blueing her cat.

Officers interviewed the head painter, Napoleon Diaz, of San Francisco, and got a slightly different story.

Mrs. Lovingood's cat, said Napoleon, had entered the neighboring garage while he and his fellow painters were mixing paint.

Not wanting the animal to interfere with their work, they said, they tried to shoo it from the garage.

Instead, it jumped into the can of blue paint, he said.

Then, dripping blue paint from whiskers to twitching tail, the cat padded home.

S.S.F. Schools Meet April 18

The regular meeting of the South San Francisco Unified School District was not held Monday night.

The board will hold its sole meeting of the month at 8 p.m. Monday in the board's chamber.

Jan.-Feb. Crime Down in County

Crime statistics issues by the San Mateo County Law Enforcement Association indicate that the total number of major crimes reported in San Mateo County during the months of Jasuary and February, 1966, was 3.1 per cent below the total reported for the same two months of 1965.

The two months total of major crimes reported in the county was 1,506 in 1966 as compared to 1,53 in 1965.

Even though the two month total shows an improvement over last year, it was pointed out that during the month of February 1966, there were 744 felonies reported compared to 725 for the same period in 1965, an increase of 2.6 per cent.

In reviewing the number of offenses reported in January as compared to those in February, it was shown that there were relatively the same number of offenses reported in each of the seven categories excepting two.

There was an increase in the number of burglaries committed, 332 in February as compared to January's 311, an increase of 7 per cent.

The greatest decrease was in the number of auto thefts, 148 in February as compared to 255 in January.

Beach Party, Tennis Set

The Daly City Recreation Department is offering tennis lessons to women in the community.

The first session is today at 10 a.m. at Westlake Park.

The 10-week session has a $1 registration fee payable at the Recreation Department or at the Park.

The Daly City Recreation Department is also sponsoring a special beach party at Thornton Beach for girls in the 4th, 5th and 6th grades on Saturday.

The cost of 75 cents is for the bus, entry fee and hot dogs. There will be bus pickups throughout the city.

Girls must get permission slips from their recreation leader.

For further information call Miss Lessard at the Recreation Department, PL 5-0850.

The Ladies Will Have Their 'Day'

It'll be a day the ladies will not easily forget tomorrow in the Westlake Shopping Center.

And for one, it'll be a day she'll probably never forget.

For to bonor the ladies, merchants in the center will stage a one-day Ladies Day promotion — complete with special sales and a drawing that will reward one lucky lady with merchandise awards valued at $500.

Every lady will receive a free orchid and free coffee when she visits the center during the day.

Free drawing tickets also will be distributed.

Promptly at 2 p.m., a winning ticket will be chosen and tre lucky lady will have until store closing time tomorrow afternoon to "spend" each merchandise certificate she has won.

It will be a race against the clock. For the winner will not be permitted to return Friday to "spend" any unused certificates.

Classes For Expectant Parents Set

A class designed to teach expectant parents methods and sikils of mother and baby care will be offered by San Mateo region of Red Cross on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, beginning May 3.

Both expectant mothers and fathers are inviter to take the course, for which there is no charge.

It will meet at San Mateo Region Red Cross headquarters, 1449 Bellevue, Burlingame, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., for six class sssions.

Mrs. Alfred Brown of San Mateo, a specially trained nurse instructor, will teach.

Care of the mother before the baby arrives, preparation for childbirth, and care of the infant are covered in the classes. Parents-to-be gain confidence through demonstration and practice in carrying, diapering, and bathing infant-siezd dolls.

Interested prospective parents are asked to pre-register by calling San Mateo Region Red Cross headquarters, 343-4561.

D.C. Claims Men Finish Training

Frank Travers, 1199 Skyline Drive, Daly City, and Paul W. Engel, San Crancisco, claim representatives for State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company, have returned home after completing several weeks of technical study at claim schools.

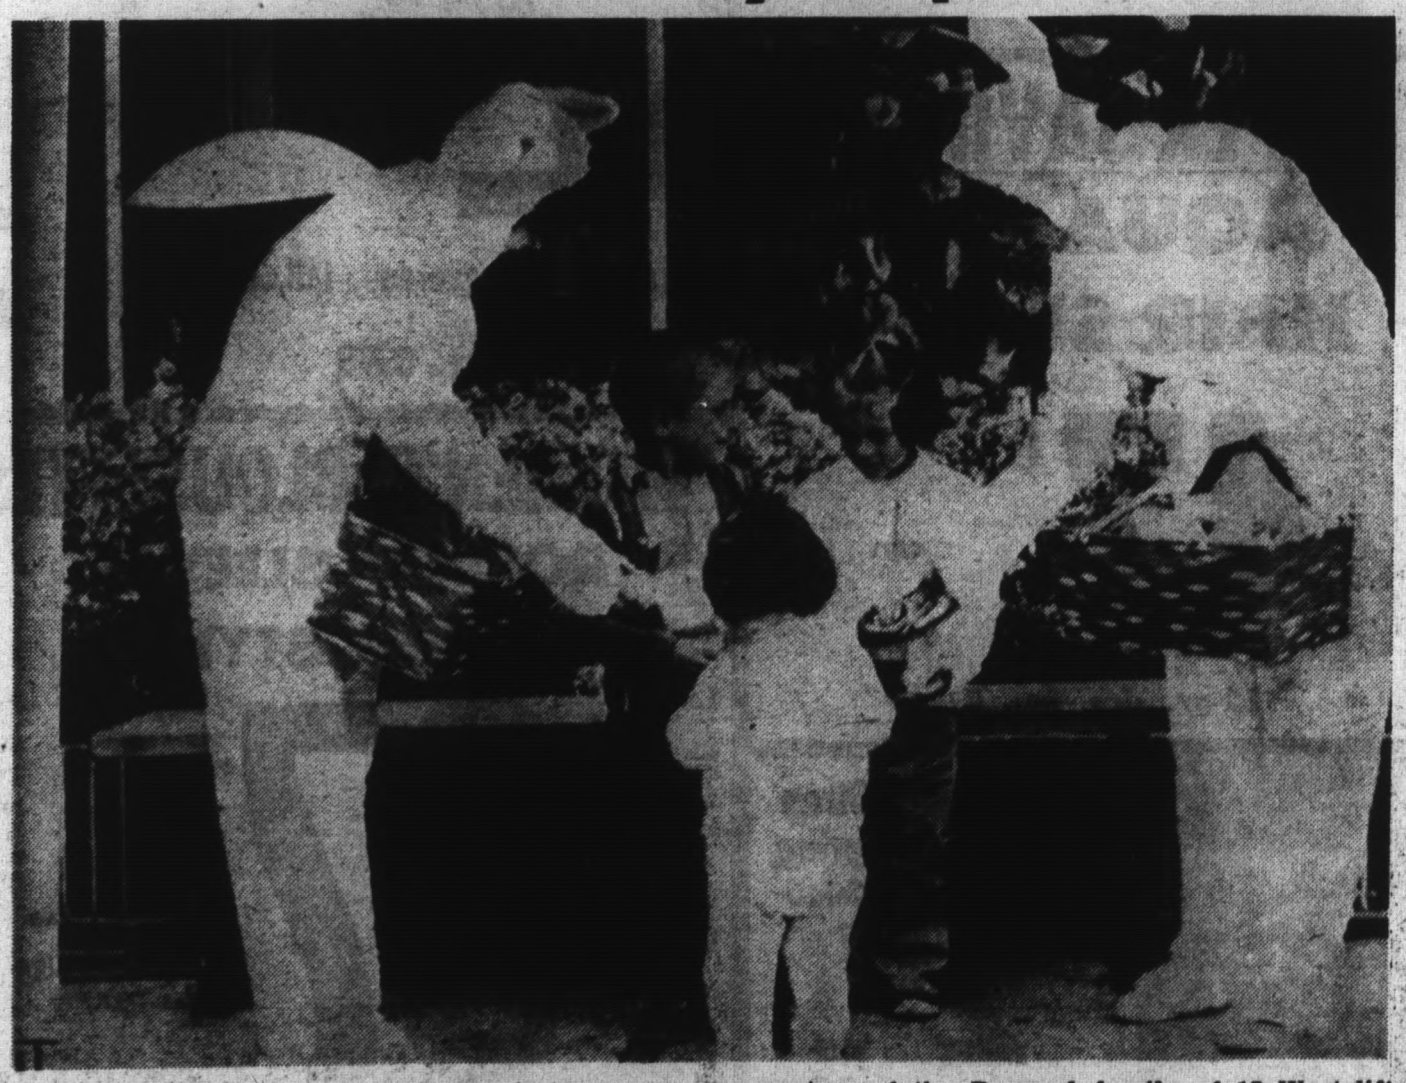
Engel studied at Vale Technical Institute at Blairsville, Pa., and Travers attended classes at the firm's Northern California regional office in Santa Rosa.

Travers works at State Farm's claim service office at 4055 Irving Street in San Francisco and Engel at 2801 Geneva Avenue in Daly City.

It's All for the Ladies

SYD POSNER, president of the Westlake Merchants Association, holds some of the merchandise certificates that will be awarded a lucky lady in a special Ladies Day promotion tomorrow at the Westlake Shopping Center. Looking them over is Virginia Davis, an employe of The Fashion. Certificates will be awarded in a drawing held at 2 p.m. in the center's mall.

Easter 'Bunny' Surprise



The Easter Bunny (in this case Bunnies) came early to the Westlake Shopping Center last week and distributed plastic candy and toy-filled eggs to the youngsters visiting the Center. Here, left to right, Bunny Carol McCord passes the goodies to youngsters of the Bernard family of 15 Westcliff Court, Pacifica—Kathy 18 months, Jimmy, 5, and Debbie, 4, as Bunny Peggy Metcalf lends assistance. More than 8,000 souvenir eggs were given away between Thursday and Saturday.
